Speak In New York

Religious Issue Is Denounced By Nixon, Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1960 presidential candidates, speaking Wednesday night at the annual Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner, agreed that religious bigotry is less of a factor in this year's election than it was in 1928 when it weighed heavily against Smith.

Both Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, renounced the religious issue.

Francis Cardinal Spellman officiated at the dinner which honored the only Roman Catholic other than Kennedy to run for president. The $100-a-plate dinner, attended by 2,000 persons, raised funds for charities for people of all races and faiths.

Kennedy, first to speak, said: "I believe 1928 and 1960 may be very different. I do not believe the American voter of 1960 is the same as the American voter of 1928."

Smith, the Democratic nominee, was defeated by Republic Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Kennedy said he is confident that the judgment of the voters on Nov. 8 will "not be based on any extraneous issues" but on what is best for the country.

"When that happens," he added, "the bitter memories of 1928 will begin to fade."

Nixon, a Quaker, said in his speech that "religion should not be an issue and will not be an issue if we try to keep real issues before the American people."

Nixon added that he believes the times call for a leader who has faith in God and faith in the rights of man.

Both candidates drew loud applause for their remarks on the religious issue.

Economic Council Proposed By Nixon

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed establishing a National Economic Council—part of a 12-point program he set forth to accelerate economic progress in the United States.

The council he suggested would correspond to the National Security Council which advises the chief executive on the problems of security.

Nixon said in a speech prepared for the National Association of Business Economists that the new group would coordinate "the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth."

But he declared it would infringe in no way on the independence of the Federal Reserve Board. This, Nixon said, "is something the opposition seems bent on doing and which is already causing concern in responsible circles both in our country and abroad."

Much of what the Republican presidential candidate said in his speech—which he described as the most important of his campaign on business and economic matters—expanded on proposals which he previously had made in criticism of Democratic programs.

Soviet Threatens To Boycott U.N. On Disarmament Debate

U.S. Hurls Charges Of Propaganda

Verbal Clash Dims Hopes For Speedy East-West Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N. General Assembly's annual debate on disarmament continues today under the shadow of a Soviet boycott threat and a U. S. charge that the Communists are using the critical arms issue as a propaganda springboard.

The two big nuclear powers clashed at the outset of debate Wednesday in the assembly's 99-nation Political Committee, further dimming the prospect of any speedy East-West agreement to resume disarmament negotiations.

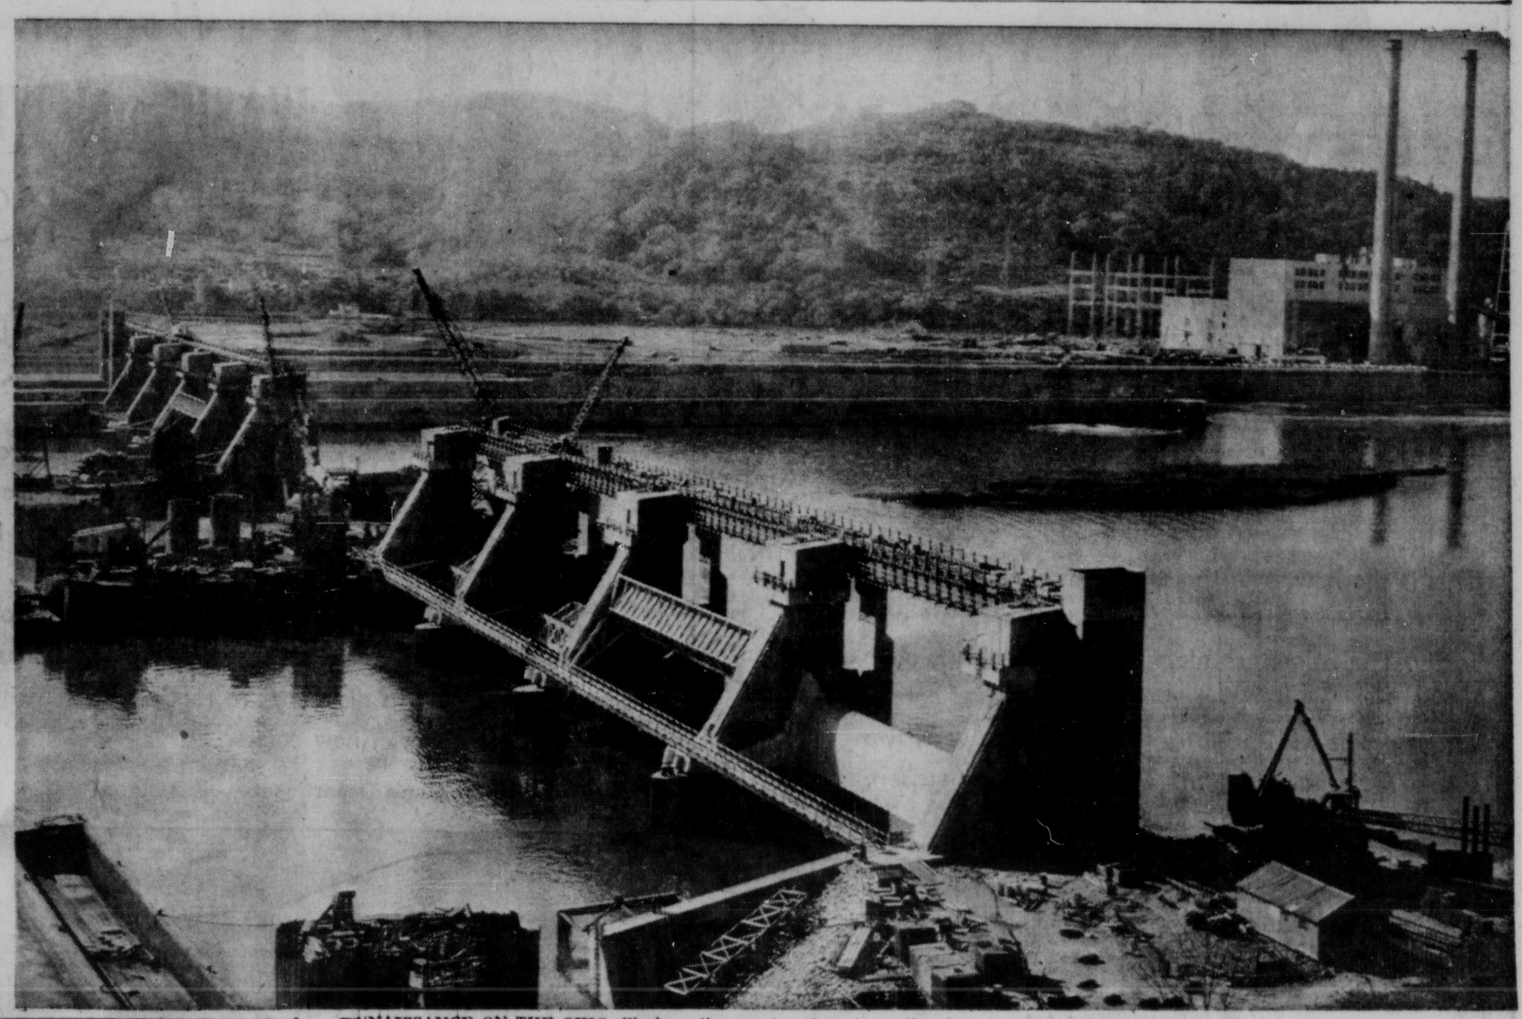

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin provoked a sharp U. S. retort with his warning that the Soviets would walk out on the disarmament debate if the United States and its allies insist on pushing their proposals for arms reductions.

Charging that the Western proposals would hamstring the committee's efforts, Zorin snapped that "the Soviet Union will not participate in such a waste of time."

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth shot back that the United States would not be swayed by tough Soviet talk.

"We will not walk out of this committee in any circumstances," Wadsworth declared, "and we will not be intimidated by a Soviet threat to do so."

Wadsworth questioned whether Soviet opposition to combined discussion of all four disarmament items on the committee's agenda was a prelude to the walkout Premier Khrushchev had threatened when he first broached the new Soviet arms proposal before the General Assembly nearly two weeks ago.

Weirton Cites City Man On Manslaughter

Trucker Freed On Bond In Fatality Of Aged Pedestrian

A city truck driver was charged with involuntary manslaughter Wednesday night in the traffic death of an elderly Weirton pedestrian who was killed instantly when struck while crossing a street.

Dale Vernon Virden, 43, of Shadyside Ave. was released under $1,000 bond pending a hearing on the charge filed in the death of Katherine Przybysz, 73.

The woman was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital, apparently from a fractured skull.

Weirton police said Virden was driving a pickup truck owned by Pearl Watkins, also of Shadyside Ave.

Virden said he had just made a left turn from Ave. F onto County Rd. in Weirton and was blinded by the bright lights of approaching vehicles and did not see the woman crossing the street. The mishap was timed at 8:09 p. m.

Police filed the charge at 11:05 p. m. after questioning Virden. He admitted having consumed one beer three hours before the mishap, police said.

Officers said a blood test for intoxication was taken and sent for examination. A hearing on the involuntary manslaughter charge will await the results of the test, they said.

In separate mishaps late yesterday afternoon, a New Cumberland area youth and a woman were injured in one-car accidents.

Jerry L. Bird, 17, of R. D. 1 is in "satisfactory" condition at Weirton General Hospital with a laceration of the scalp and possible back injury.

Sheriff's deputies said Bird was traveling on Swearingen Hill Rd. when a car backed out of a private drive. Bird applied his brakes but his car skidded on the wet pavement and went into a yard.

Mrs. Violet Manie Kerner, 42, of Swearingen Hill was treated at the hospital for head injuries suffered when her car overturned on Route 2 near the Kings Creek bridge in the Weirton limits.

Police said Mrs. Kerner rounded a bend when her car went into a spin, crossed the highway and hit an embankment and then overturned on its roof.

Jordan-Isarel Patrols Fight Duel On Border

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli patrols fought a five-minute gun duel on the border in the Tulkarm area Wednesday afternoon, a Jordan military spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said the Israeli military patrol opened fire on a Jordanian roving patrol at Jubara village, inside Jordan territory.

Atomic Subs With Rockets, Soviet Claim

Khrushchev Makes Announcement After Pentagon's Report

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union, which is credited with the world's biggest underseas fleet, now has atom-powered submarines armed with nuclear rockets.

Khrushchev spoke before 15,000 Muscovites packed into Luzhniki Stadium. It was his first speech since he returned last week from his desk-pounding visit to the U.N. General Assembly.

A summary of his speech distributed by Tass news agency in English gave a paragraph to his announcement of the nuclear, rocket-armed subs.

It said "he served this notice on American generals and admirals in connection with the report that the Pentagon decided to send submarines armed with missiles and nuclear weapons to the shores of the Soviet Union."

He said new Western proposals to the U.N. assembly show the Western powers are continuing to use disarmament talks to cover up an arms race policy.

"They are an ill omen for the future," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev said the first stage of the 15th General Assembly was marked in the main "by the struggle of the new, the progressive, with the old, the outworn, which was impeding the growth and development of the new."

His attendance was not only worthwhile but essential, he said.

Declaring an extraordinary session should be held next March and April, he said that if the heads of state and government agree in principle on a solution of the question of general and complete disarmament they could indicate the direction for additional work by a narrower panel.

He spoke of this panel as the "15-nation committee." The Soviet Union wants to expand the 10-nation East-West disarmament committee to 15 by the addition of five nations.

Colonial empires have fallen apart since World War II and now "their fragments are cracking up" while the Communist countries have emerged as a powerful camp, Khrushchev said.

He declared the United States no longer looms great on the international scene and has lost its military superiority, "although their ruling circles are still under the delusion that they retain it."

He said the German problem must be solved and added that "apparently it should be solved in 1961" — without, however, saying precisely how.

Khrushchev described disarmament as "the hub of all vital problems of our time."

'Some Snow' Due With Cold

Frost Seen Tonight With Low Of 28-35

A sharp temperature dip promised to mix "some snow" with light showers today as winter-like weather headed for the Tri-State District.

The mercury will range in the chilly—for daytime—area of 42 to 48 degrees and plummet tonight to the possible sub-freezing low of 28 to 35.

With clear skies forecast for tonight, there is likely to be a heavy frost.

If the snow materializes, it could be the earliest in years. The district usually gets flurries in mid-November and Thanksgiving Week has produced some heavy snows in the past.

The showers continued intermittently this morning after 0.43 inch of rain Wednesday in the first substantial precipitation in several weeks.

The rain was measured from 9:15 a. m. to 8:40 p. m. yesterday and more fell starting at 2:50 a. m. today, according to Lockmaster Harry Springer at Dam 8 at Newell.

This with cooler temperatures apparently relieved drought conditions, temporarily at least, and reduced fire hazards in the rural areas.

Friday will see sunny skies and milder temperatures, the Ohio weatherman said.

Jail To Serve Venison

LISBON — If you want a change of diet from steaks and beef roasts, manage to get yourself sentenced to the County Jail. The Lisbon pokie had venison on the menu today — a 120-pound doe killed by the car of Sanford J. Hill of Lisbon R. D. 4 this morning. He reported to the sheriff's office at 7:30 that he had hit the deer and the deputies found the carcass on Green's Hill on Route 30 south. It was taken to the jail and dressed.

Stratton Unit Dedicated By Power Firm

600 At Ceremonies Naming Facility 'W. H. Sammis Plant'

The Ohio Edison Co. of Akron paid honor today to Walter H. Sammis, its president and chief executive officer, by dedicating its new Stratton plant in his honor. The plant is destined to be the largest in the Edison system.

More than 600 were on hand for the ceremony and open house.

The tribute to Sammis, longtime leader in the electric light and power field, was in recognition of his contributions to the industry over a 40-year period, and his 16 years as Edison's president.

The "W. H. Sammis" plant is partially completed. Two of the 4 giant generating units, each of 173,000-kilowatt capacity, are in operation and two more of the same size are under construction.

Total cost of the project is currently estimated at $118 million, exclusive of the step-up electrical substation adjoining the plant and the network of transmission lines which will boost the final cost to about $161, million.

When all 4 generators are on the line in 1962, the facility will have a capacity of 692,000 kilowatts, sufficient to meet all the electrical needs of homes in a city of 2,500,000.

D. Bruce Mansfield, Edison's executive vice president, who presided at the dedicatory luncheon, recounted some of the highlights of Sammis' career.

Sammis credited the abundance of electric power provided at prices within the reach of all by America's light and power companies as one of the principal reasons why this country enjoys the highest standard of living in the world.

In addition to the Stratton facility, Edison has two other plants downstream, one at Toronto which also is in Jefferson county, and another in Belmont county. The utility also owns a 335-acre site for a future plant near Warrenton at the lower end of Jefferson county. Pennsylvania Power, a subsidiary, has acquired a 190-acre site near Shippingport.

Preceding Sammis on today's program were Col. W. W. Smith Jr., Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, in charge of the Pittsburgh District, and G. A. Berry, first assistant director, Ohio Department of Highways.

Projects of both agencies represented by the two speakers were

U.S. At 'End Of The Line' In Sanctions Against Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States apparently faces serious difficulties in imposing any major new economic or political pressures on the pro-Communist Castro government of Cuba.

State Department officials said today that this country has gone about as far as it can go for the time being in applying what amounts to sanctions against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The latest move came Wednesday when the Commerce Department ordered a curb on all U. S. exports to Cuba except medical supplies and some foodstuffs. The partial embargo applies mainly to machinery and industrial equipment and supplies. The Maritime Commission at the same time banned the transfer of American-owned ships to Cuba.

Earlier this year the United States had cut off aid to Cuba and had virtually closed the U. S. market to Cuban sugar purchases.

Wednesday's trade ban was clamped on after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, speaking in his presidential campaign at Miami, Fla., Tuesday, advocated a policy of quarantining Castro's Cuba and said that "a number of steps can be taken to do this and are planned."

Diplomats dealing with the problem reported that consideration has been given to a wide range of measures.

The next most likely step—though it is not yet worked out in detail—could be the freezing of Cuban assets in the United States. Officials said they were not sure of the volume of these assets but that they probably were not more than a few million dollars.

Apart from keeping friendly Latin American governments informed of all that can be learned about Communist activities in Cuba, the idea of isolating Cuba from the rest of the hemisphere has not been worked out as to specific detail.

From time to time, informants said, ideas have arisen of the possibility of establishing some kind of patrol of air and sea craft around Cuba and of trying to prevent flow into Cuba of arms from Communist countries. Such activities, however, responsible authorities said, come close to blockade actions if they are to be effective. Blockade raises questions of the use of military force which apparently no one in the government considers seriously.

There has also been some talk of the possibility of breaking off diplomatic relations with Castro, but the State Department officials discount this completely under present conditions. They would prefer to maintain some channel of communication with the Cuban regime such as is afforded by the U. S. Embassy in Cuba.

Australian, Briton Win Nobel Prize For Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — An Australian, Prof. Frank MacFarlane Burnet, and a Briton, Prof. Peter Brian Medawar, were awarded the 1960 Nobel Prize for Medicine today.

The winners of the $43,627 prize (225,987 Swedish crowns) were selected by the Royal Caroline Institute in a two-hour session.

The five annual Nobel prizes are awarded in fields of medicine, physics, chemistry, literature and peace work, and stem from the fortune left by the late Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Burnet and Medawar were awarded the 1960 prize for medicine jointly for the discovery of acquired immunological tolerance, said the official citation of the awarding body.

The two noted medical researchers have solved one of the major obstacles for transplantation of tissues from one body to another.

Burnet is director of the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute for Medical Research in Melbourne, Australia.

Medaware is professor of zoology and comparative anatomy, University College, London.

The Caroline Institute's citation of the award said:

"Transplantation of tissues from one part of the body to another does not present any particular difficulties — the graft usually heals easily. Exchange of tissues between different individuals is a problem of a total different order and for the following reasons. All the body's cells and tissues carry a certain immunological pattern. Individual patterns show the

Chester Gets Warning On Sewage Plant

Chester Council was given a notice by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission Wednesday night that the city is expected to proceed "without further delay" in construction of sewage treatment facilities.

A letter from Robert K. Horton, assistant director of the commission, pointed out failure to take action to provide the facilities since first notified in 1953 places the city in violation of terms of the original sanitation compact.

Horton wrote he had been instructed by the commission, in a resolution adopted at Cincinnati Sept. 8, to ask the city to arrange a meeting with Dr. N. H. Dyer, West Virginia director of health, to discuss the matter.

Councilmen talked over the letter, and it was suggested a meeting be arranged with Dr. Dyer, but no action was taken.

New Bidding Set On Chester Wall Project

Council Authorizes Action And Will Air Proposals On Nov. 4

Authorization to seek new bids for construction of a retaining wall at the Chester upper pump station was approved Wednesday night by Council, which also granted a $1,550 contract for a wire fence at the city water reservoir.

Council will receive sealed bids Nov. 4 for the wall planned to protect the pump station when the Ohio River pool level rises after completion of the Stratton Super-dam.

Only one bid was received when offers were sought earlier this month — the Pennsylvania Drilling Co. of Pittsburgh asked $23,869 for the project. The McGill - Smith Consulting Engineers of Bethel had estimated the cost of $13,000.

The original bid was rejected by the Army Engineers as too high.

The work will be financed, after completion, by the federal government, and will be supervised by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

In other action, Council authorized purchase and installation of a 6-foot wire mesh fence, topped with barbed wire, for the reservoir near Lawrenceville, to be supplied, installed and painted by the Anchor Fence Division of Pittsburgh at a cost of $1,550. The only other bid was from the Cyclone Fence Co. of Pittsburgh for $990, plus painting and minus barbed wire.

Council took no action on a proposed amendment to a tax ordinance which would place a license fee on automatic laundry service establishments, such as the Chester Laundromat. Action was postponed because of the absence of City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner.

Permission was granted Kenneth Aspey of Fairview St. to break curbing for a driveway at his home.

Earlier this year the United States had cut off aid to Cuba and had virtually closed the U. S. market to Cuban sugar purchases.

Wednesday's trade ban was clamped on after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, speaking in his presidential campaign at Miami, Fla., Tuesday, advocated a policy of quarantining Castro's Cuba and said that "a number of steps can be taken to do this and are planned."

Diplomats dealing with the problem reported that consideration has been given to a wide range of measures.

The next most likely step—though it is not yet worked out in detail—could be the freezing of Cuban assets in the United States. Officials said they were not sure of the volume of those assets but that they probably were not more than a few million dollars.

Apart from keeping friendly Latin American governments informed of all that can be learned about Communist activities in Cuba, the idea of isolating Cuba from the rest of the hemisphere has not been worked out as to specific detail.

From time to time, informants said, ideas have arisen of the possibility of establishing some kind of patrol of air and sea craft around Cuba and of trying to prevent flow into Cuba of arms from Communist countries. Such activities, however, responsible authorities said, come close to blockade actions if they are to be effective. Blockade raises questions of the use of military force which apparently no one in the government considers seriously.

There has also been some talk of the possibility of breaking off diplomatic relations with Castro, but the State Department officials discount this completely under present conditions. They would prefer to maintain some channel of communication with the Cuban regime such as is afforded by the U. S. Embassy in Cuba.

Australian, Briton Win Nobel Prize For Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — An Australian, Prof. Frank MacFarlane Burnet, and a Briton, Prof. Peter Brian Medawar, were awarded the 1960 Nobel Prize for Medicine today.

The winners of the $43,627 prize (225,987 Swedish crowns) were selected by the Royal Caroline Institute in a two-hour session.

The five annual Nobel prizes are awarded in fields of medicine, physics, chemistry, literature and peace work, and stem from the fortune left by the late Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Burnet and Medawar were awarded the 1960 prize for medicine jointly for the discovery of acquired immunological tolerance, said the official citation of the awarding body.

The two noted medical researchers have solved one of the major obstacles for transplantation of tissues from one body to another.

Burnet is director of the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute for Medical Research in Melbourne, Australia.

Medawar is professor of zoology and comparative anatomy, University College, London.

The Caroline Institute's citation of the award said:

"Transplantation of tissues from one part of the body to another does not present any particular difficulties — the graft usually heals easily. Exchange of tissues between different individuals is a problem of a total different order and for the following reasons. All the body's cells and tissues carry a certain immunological pattern. Individual patterns show the

Chester Gets Warning On Sewage Plant

Chester Council was given a notice by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission Wednesday night that the city is expected to proceed "without further delay" in construction of sewage treatment facilities.

A letter from Robert K. Horton, assistant director of the commission, pointed out failure to take action to provide the facilities since first notified in 1953 places the city in violation of terms of the original sanitation compact.

Horton wrote he had been instructed by the commission, in a resolution adopted at Cincinnati Sept. 8, to ask the city to arrange a meeting with Dr. N. H. Dyer, West Virginia director of health, to discuss the matter.

Councilmen talked over the letter, and it was suggested a meeting be arranged with Dr. Dyer, but no action was taken.

New Bidding Set On Chester Wall Project

Council Authorizes Action And Will Air Proposals On Nov. 4

Authorization to seek new bids for construction of a retaining wall at the Chester upper pump station was approved Wednesday night by Council, which also granted a $1,550 contract for a wire fence at the city water reservoir.

Council will receive sealed bids Nov. 4 for the wall planned to protect the pump station when the Ohio River pool level rises after completion of the Stratton Super-dam.

Only one bid was received when offers were sought earlier this month — the Pennsylvania Drilling Co. of Pittsburgh asked $23,000 for the project. The McGill - Smith Consulting Engineers of Bethel had estimated the cost of $13,000.

The original bid was rejected by the Army Engineers as too high.

The work will be financed, after completion, by the federal government, and will be supervised by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

In other action, Council authorized purchase and installation of a 6-foot wire mesh fence, topped with barbed wire, for the reservoir near Lawrenceville, to be supplied, installed and painted by the Anchor Fence Division of Pittsburgh at a cost of $1,550. The only other bid was from the Cyclone Fence Co. of Pittsburgh for $900, plus painting and minus barbed wire.

Council took no action on a proposed amendment to a tax ordinance which would place a license fee on automatic laundry service establishments, such as the Chester Laundromat. Action was postponed because of the absence of City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner.

Permission was granted Kenneth Aspey of Fairview St. to break curbing for a driveway at his home.

For Ohio Supreme Court

There are three choices to be made by Ohio voters for the Ohio Supreme Court on Nov. 8.

In two races, men now sitting on the state's highest court are asking for re-election. They are James F. Bell and Kingsley A. Taft.

Judge Bell's opponent is Earl R. Hoover, a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas judge. Both have served ably in their respective assignments, but Judge Bell deserves the edge because he is completing his first six-year term on the Supreme Court and has profited by the experience.

JUDGE TAFT has served two distinguished six-year terms and has our unqualified endorsement. When he ran for his second term six years ago, he was the only judge in the 157-year history of the Ohio Supreme Court who was unopposed in either party. His opponent this year is Joseph H. Ellison.

The third place on the Supreme Court to be filled this year is sought by C. William O'Neill, former governor of Ohio. His opponent is John W. Peck. Mr. Peck was appointed to the Ohio Supreme Court by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to serve the last four years of the unexpired term of the late James Garfield Stewart.

Officially, Ohio jurists run for office on a nonpartisan ballot. Actually, most candidates for judicial office are active in politics.

Mr. O'Neill certainly has a better claim to the place on the Supreme Court originally won by Judge Stewart, a Republican, than the Democratic appointee of a Democratic govenor. But that is not the compelling reason for electing former Gov. O'Neill.

He is suited for the job. He made his mark in Ohio government as attorney general. He qualified himself for attention as one of the state's most promising public officials by the thoroughness of his work in the attorney general's office. By training and by temperament, he would make a good judge.

THE COMMON experience throughout Ohio is for the voters to neglect judicial ballots because they do not feel they can make decisions in races they do not understand. In a sense, it is fortunate it happens this way. It immunizes judicial candidates against blind partisan voting.

But it imposes extra responsibility on voters who inform themselves about judicial candidates. They must make a special effort to understand which candidates deserve special attention.

Mighty Casey At The Bat

We are confident that everyone even remotely connected with the compulsory retirement of employes who reach 65 will chew his lip over the Casey Stengel explosion.

Here was a famous and highly productive employe of the New York Yankees being turned out to pasture with a truckload of monetary oats because the ball club was starting compulsory retirement at 65 and he had turned 70.

It scarcely was noted in the excitement that George M. Weiss also was being edged into an advisory job and that the Yankee empire was being reorganized from the bottom to the top, where its president, Dan Topping, was sitting tight and giving tight-lipped statements. Topping is on the sunny side of 50.

If Topping expected Stengel to ride along with the usual platitudes about faithful service to the mother company, it's been swell working with such a fine bunch of fellas and come to see me in California if you're out that way, he had a shock. We doubt he had a shock. It's likelier he knew what was coming and decided the only thing to do was keep his chin up and wait for the feathers to settle. He knew Stengel too well to expect a happy ending.

Casey Stengel said what most old timers feel when they are told it's time to make room for younger men with a future. They don't feel grateful, graceful, calm or contented. They feel let down, disgruntled and sore. They doubt if they can be replaced. If they happen to have been hitting on all eight, the way Casey had been hitting, with 10 American League pennants and seven world championships in 12 years, they know darned well they can't be replaced.

If Manager Stengel can't find anything else to do in the twilight years, he could bring in a nice clutch of cash for himself and his beloved Edna giving lectures to audiences of aging Americans who have been reading about retiring gracefully and still don't see why they should try to put grace into an awkward situation.

Welcome Progress

Mayor Goodballet's proposed program to help East Liverpool maintain its position as a shopping center could provide the impetus needed to get things rolling on a broad scale.

While several civic-minded groups have been thinking in the same direction, the administration's grabbing of the bull by the horns greatly enhances the hope for speedy action. With the administration leading the way, those who have been pondering the problem on their own now will have somewhere to turn. And with such unity of effort and purpose, there is reason to believe that results will be forthcoming.

The mayor presented his program to Council this week and has been invited by the legislators to attend a caucus at their next session Nov. 7 to explore the matter further. More progress can be expected to develop from that conference.

No stone should be left unturned on behalf of improved shopping facilities.

The problem is not East Liverpool's alone. Other communities face similar shopping situations. Our hope, however, is to outstrip the others in the speed with which we come up with the best possible answer.

Cuba May Not Wait For Nov. 8

We have no idea what the Kennedy campaigners have in mind to say next about Cuba. But if they stay in the groove, they will go at Cuba hammer and tongs until they have milked it for all the headlines they can get out of it, the way they worked over Quemoy and Matsu.

Cuba was coming up next. In all probability, the Kennedys also have the South American republics on their list of things to badger the Eisenhower administration about before Nov. 8.

But Cuba suddenly is in a special category. The U.S. government has taken the drastic step of imposing economic sanctions on Cuba. No exports of any nature that might be useful if Cuba launched a military adventure will be permitted without a license, and no licenses are likely.

Cuba may not wait for Nov. 8 to make the fateful move that would bring it into a military conflict with the United States —an attack on the U.S. naval station at Guantanamo. Cuban extremists led by Fidel Castro and his Communist accomplices have exhausted the possibilities of seizing the private property of U.S. citizens and companies. Their ultimate step would be to seize the public property of the United States.

They would do this to precipitate war. Their purpose would be to make the United States test the Organization of American States as a means of protecting its stake in a military installation, as devlish a scheme as any dictatorial regime ever cooked up to test the ingenuity, wisdom and patience of another government. From Castro's point of view, it would be the means of driving a wedge between the United States and its Latin American allies.

John Kennedy should lay off any more shooting from the hip on the subject of Cuba. Richard Nixon should lay off, too. Both men should defer from now on to the only American who can make policy in this delicate problem of how to handle a revolution that was turned into a counter-revolution by the perfidy of the Communist Conspiracy.

Cuba is Dwight Eisenhower's responsibility now. It's time again for all office-seekers to shut their mouths at the water's edge, where politics is supposed to stop.

Go To The Source

There can be no argument against Sheriff Clayton Hobbs' suggestion that a community center be established in the tri-state area as a partial answer to the teenage problem for which some taverns must be held greatly responsible.

It would be wonderful if the immediate district could boast of a center such as that at Weirton. And, as the sheriff commented, it probably would serve to some degree as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

However, a community center seems a secondary solution to the major problem. The evil must be erased at its source. All taverns are not guilty of selling to teenagers, but those which are should be policed constantly, with the severest penalties inflicted when justified.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Castro has seized all rented homes and turned them over to tenants who must regard Cuban government as landlord. Will this mean firing squad for a guy who gets behind in the rent?.

If he has a leak under the sink and asks Fidel to take care of the plumbing repairs will he get a four-hour radio speech announcing a Fix-It-Yourself Program?

Castro's seizure of rented homes could boomerang against the dictator, since Mr. and Mrs. Cuba merely switch rent payments from former owner to the government.

It's hard to believe happiness can come through government control of such matters as painting the bungalow, replacing shingles on roof and pumping out the cellar.

When a Cuban phones Fidel's rental bureau and says, "Look, the wife says the living room is in such shape, you've got to send over a paperhanger," there's a big chance Castro will charge him with treasonable efforts to undermine the government, bring back Batista and make Cuba a slave state.

The wife, who suggested new wallpaper, may even be arrested charged with being in the pay of Yankee imperialists and a secret partner in conspiracy to keep Guantanamo Naval Base under American operation.

If the Cuban chief of the Cuban Department of Rent Collections has as much trouble as most landlords getting rent on time, will he face an execution squad?

And in view of Fidel's hysteria at the mention of colonialism, won't a Cuban looking for "a colonial style home" wind up in Morro Castle, to say nothing of a tenant who is reported having a garden with red, white and blue flowers? (Former owners are told by Castro they will get monthly indemnity from the government to make up for losses in rentals. Wanna bet?)

It's Never Cheap

McClellan Readies Move On Mob

By Victor Riesel

No matter who wins on Election Day, the mob will lose exactly one week later. Sen. McClellan will be back in business. The returns on his subpenas will start rolling in on the morning of Nov. 15 in the Senate Office Building.

Victor Riesel

His new committee—a section of the Senate government operations probing group — has operating on a smaller budget with fewer investigators. But it will shovel deeply into some of the New York Teamsters locals.

It will show that the mob never took a holiday. What the McClellan staff did was to follow up observations of the old McClellan Select Committee—such as these: ". . .(the mob) brought 40 men into the labor movement in positions of trust and responsibility.

"Men, who among them, had be arrested a remarkable total of 178 times and convicted on 77 of those occasions for crimes ranging from theft, violation of the Harrison Narcotics Act, extortion, conspiracy, bookmaking, use of stench bombs, felonious assault, robbery, possession of an unregistered still, burglary, violation of the gun laws, being an accessory to murder, forgery, possession of stolen mail and disorderly conduct."

THIS IS MERELY a biographical note on the proletarian pretenders reflecting their qualifications for leadership in these circles. After they moved into a handful of Teamsters locals, 25 of the 40 were convicted or indicted for extortion, perjury, bribery and forgery.

Some of these characters will get a chance to make their television debuts without getting a chance to declare, with injured feelings, that they were persecuted for political reasons.

The hearing will run most of the week. It will be prelude to other testimony involving at least three other cities.

This carries the public probing mighty close to early December when provisional president James Hoffa wanted to run a national Teamsters convention—in Miami Beach, of course.

Hoffa had hoped to conduct a swift four-day convention, the most important order of business being his re-election as permanent president.

FOR SOME utterly whimsical reason, no doubt, Hoffa has moved up his arrangements. He now has an option on a big Bal Harbour hotel convention hall set for the first two weeks in January.

Should he have to postpone his conclave past Jan. 15, the sacrifice will be great. The Teamsters will hit the Florida winter season rush and be forced to give up their option.

This would move them to Chicago in cold weather and you know how tough that is on hard-working delegates.

By that time, there will have been several new McClellan committee hearings in the old rip-roaring tradition.

These will create an atmosphere in which the new secretary of labor, be he Republican or Democrat, will have little alternative but to make his first order of business intervention into the teamsters election of convention delegates. He would act under something called Section 601. Few know of it outside the Labor Department.

YOU'LL HEAR MUCH of this bit of the Landrum-Griffin Act. It says, in effect, the secretary of labor has the right to anticipate violation.

Whenever he believes it necessary to learn whether any person has violated, or is about to violate, any provision of the act, he can subpena books and witnesses.

He can grant immunity to witnesses. This means that they won't be able to take the "Fifth" on the grounds that they would incriminate themselves.

The secretary can use Section 607 too. This gives him the right to work with all other government agencies.

Thus he will be able to step in after Sen. McClellan's disclosures—and, with the cooperation of the Department of Justice, change the union's plans.

Old Pros Have Bad Year

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

When the Yankees sacked Casey Stengel it just went to show this has been a bad year all around for the old pros.

Take politics. None of the men around Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy is a political sentimentalist. But almost all are young.

The oldtimers in both parties have been shoved into the background.

Two of the biggest old pros still loose in the land, former President Truman and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, tried to sidetrack Kennedy's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He ran right over them.

Nixon didn't have to demolish any Republican giants to get what he wanted. He spent seven years as vice president sewing up the Republican presidential nomination long before he ever got to the convention.

Neither Nixon nor Kennedy, of course, is a political chicken. Even though they're both in their 40s, each has been in Congress 14 years and each knows his way around in campaigns. They've been in some rough ones before this.

The closest thing to an old-time pro in either camp is Leonard Hall, Nixon's campaign manager, a former Republican national chairman who was in Congress for years and has been mixed up in politics since back in the 1920s when he was sheriff of Nassau County, N.Y.

But Hall is staying pretty much out of sight, doing a lot of his work by telephone.

Further up front is 35-year old Robert Finch, a lawyer who's been in California politics for years, ran twice unsuccessfully for Congress, and has the title of campaign director for Nixon.

Kennedy didn't go hunting among the professionals, old or young, for his campaign manager. He picked his younger brother, Robert, who had been attorney for the Senate's rackets committee.

When he was with the committee the younger Kennedy brought in an old family friend, Phillip Kenneth O'Donnell, 36, a former Harvard football player and war veteran, as his top assistant.

The Kennedys took O'Donnell along for the campaign. He's the senator's chief trouble-shooter now.

As his chief assistant Kennedy has 32-year-old Theodore C. Sorenson, who will probably be White House chief of staff if Kennedy wins.

Another old Kennedy family friend—Lawrence F. O'Brien, 43-year-old lawyer and public relations man—is in charge of organizing the Democrats around the country. He did pretty well for Kennedy in his primary fights this year.

So, with the exception of Hall and Truman, who is making some campaign speeches for Kennedy, there is hardly a political Stengel in sight.

Bigotry And The UAW

By David Lawrence

Union Paper Criticized For Stand

The latest sensation of the campaign is the exploitation of the so-called religious issue by the United Auto Workers of America, the principal labor union in the automobile industry.

David Lawrence

In the union's own newspaper there appeared on Sept. 26 last a four-page insert calling on the members of the union to support Sen. Kennedy, Democrat, on account of the bigotry issue.

Four pages were devoted to material in support of Sen. Kennedy, and the front page was taken up entirely with drawings of the Statute of Liberty holding aloft a torch and a hooded member of the Ku Klux Klan carrying a torch in one hand and a club in the other.

The following was the headline in big type across the page alongside the drawings: "Which Do You Choose? Liberty or Bigotry."

Although this was first printed several weeks ago, it has not been publicly repudiated by anyone connected with the union.

In fact, the auxiliary political organization of the union has since had a million extra copies printed for public distribution in the campaign.

When Walter Reuther, president of the union, was asked in Detroit on Monday whether he would repudiate the document, he didn't exactly do so.

WHAT HE SAID was merely a criticism of those who, he claims, had "misinterpreted" it. He expressed regret at the "implication some may have drawn" that the newspaper supplement was exploiting the religious issue.

He explained that, if the United Auto Workers erred—he did not say he believed it had erred — then it was an error of judgment and "not of intent."

He added, "We did not intend to imply that people who disagreed with us politically are bigots."

He did not explain why three weeks had elapsed without any comment from him or any effort leaflets reprinting the article and the drawings.

Here is a newspaper published by a union comprised of Protestants as well as Catholics, Republicans as well as Democrats, all of whom pay to the union dues which in this case were used to publish a document of political partisanship.

Not only was Sen. Kennedy's speech before the Protestant ministers at Houston published in full but not a single word about Vice President Nixon's denunciation of the so-called religious issue was contained in the newspaper or its supplement.

The Michigan Fair Election Practices Commission has issued a statement condemning the UAW newspaper article and has said that, "This leaflet unmistakably implies that the issue of the campaign is between freedom and the Ku Klux Klan."

THE COMMISSION added that the pamphlet "in effect smears one of the parties, and attempts to exploit the religious issue for political advantage. Bigotry is not to be fought with bigotry in reverse."

The "Detroit News," which in a copyrighted article published the first news of the UAW statement about bigotry, said flatly that the pamphlet implied that "only bigots oppose Kennedy."

President Eisenhower, who happened to be in Detroit on Monday, referred to the UAW article in a spech during the day to an audience of 6,000 persons gathered at the civic center.

Although he didn't mention the UAW by name, his secretary, James C. Hagerty, said afterward that Mr. Eisenhower had the UAW article in mind when he said in his speech:

"I believe that anyone who is guilty in America of putting out any kind of document that tries to tear down our self-respect, which tries to make us believe that we are not trying to do the good and best things for ourselves and the rest of the world, this is a disservice to the United States.

"And I repeat, I care not from what source any such calumnies can come, but I say to the people of Detroit, as I should like to say it to all America: Just be true to yourselves, and don't be misled by anyone who, for any reason, would seek advantage in distortions, falsehood and wrongdoing."

THE PRESIDENT referred again in a later speech the same day to "evil propaganda" which is "trying to make someone forget that we are a nation that loves decency, that believes in fair play, and that we are ready to vote our convictions according to the conscience of each of us."

There is a law, passed by Congress several years ago, which prohibits unions or corporations from using their funds for political campaigns in federal elections, but the Supreme Court of the United States as yet has failed to reverse or uphold local courts which have ruled that the use of union dues for political purposes is a denial of the rights of the individuals who pay dues to a union.

Letters To The Editor

Being greatly concerned about the problem of juvenile delinquency about which we read very frequently in the daily papers, I was very much impressed with the following article. This article was published in the September 1960 issue of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen's Magazine and reads as follows:

"Not long ago a New York City judge wrote the New York Times saying that in the 17 years he had been on the bench not one Chinese teenager had been brought before him on a juvenile delinquency charge.

"P. H. Chang, Chinese consul-general in New York, commented: 'I have heard this many times from many judges. . . .Filial piety is a cardinal virtue my people have brought over from the China that was free.

"A Chinese child, no matter where he lives, is brought up to recognize he cannot shame his parents. Before a Chinese child makes a move, he stops to think what the reaction of his parents will be. Will they be proud, or will they be ashamed? Above all other things, the Chinese teenager is anxious to please his parents.

"The amazing record of the Chinese children shows that it is in the home that the cure for juvenile delinquency will be found—and in no other place."

I strongly believe that if the parents of today would take this idea to heart and teach their children accordingly, giant steps could be made toward curing our juvenile delinquency problems.

GEORGE G. HOUGH
1623 Lincoln Ave.
Wellsville

Regarding the coming election as to whom shall be our next president, let us face the real facts before we decide to cast our vote.

The answer to today's problem isn't legislation. It is work, work and more work so efficient so that costs and prices come down and jobs go up. But not on a 32-hour basis, for the breakdown comes there. For we don't decide a work week, we produce it. We don't decide how long we want to work in a week, but we do decide how much we wish to take home at the end of that week according to what we have produced in labor.

When someone tells you to cut your work week into less hours and still demand the same pay, they are telling you to raise the costs and therefore raise the prices. The result is a ruined job.

Let us give an honest day's work, so we may receive an honest day's wages. As the Bible says in the Book of Nehemiah — The people had a mind to work, it also says be satisfied with thy wages, and as you and I are living in the most wonderful country in the world, where freedom rules, speeches are free to make and worship for each individual is his chosen desire.

In regards to the pottery situation, I would suggest both sides take time out to pray, for prayer certainly does change things if done in sincerity.

As far as a depression in the dinnerware business is concerned, there will never be a depression according to the American Ceramic Products, Inc., makers of Winfield China. Here is a firm that has challenged foreign competition and overcome all obstacles.

This firm does three times the volume of business it used to do. The American market is far from saturation in the dinnerware line. For only 17 families out of every 100 families have a complete set of dinnerware. So says this firm. The answer to this problem in the pottery industry, isn't more tariff, but better merchandising, with salesmen who have the know-how to sell. So let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter:

Pertaining to one's life in this world, and the world to come: Fear God, and keep His Commandments for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring into judgment, every work whether good or evil. So vote right and we will live right.

Officially, Ohio jurists run for office on a nonpartisan ballot. Actually, most candidates for judicial office are active in politics.

Mr. O'Neill certainly has a better claim to the place on the Supreme Court originally won by Judge Stewart, a Republican, than the Democratic appointee of a Democratic govenor. But that is not the compelling reason for electing former Gov. O'Neill.

He is suited for the job. He made his mark in Ohio government as attorney general. He qualified himself for attention as one of the state's most promising public officials by the thoroughness of his work in the attorney general's office. By training and by temperament, he would make a good judge.

THE COMMON experience throughout Ohio is for the voters to neglect judicial ballots because they do not feel they can make decisions in races they do not understand. In a sense, it is fortunate it happens this way. It immunizes judicial candidates against blind partisan voting.

But it imposes extra responsibility on voters who inform themselves about judicial candidates. They must make a special effort to understand which candidates deserve special attention.

Mighty Casey At The Bat

We are confident that everyone even remotely connected with the compulsory retirement of employes who reach 65 will chew his lip over the Casey Stengel explosion.

Here was a famous and highly productive employe of the New York Yankees being turned out to pasture with a truckload of monetary oats because the ball club was starting compulsory retirement at 65 and he had turned 70.

It scarcely was noted in the excitement that George M. Weiss also was being edged into an advisory job and that the Yankee empire was being reorganized from the bottom to the top, where its president, Dan Topping, was sitting tight and giving tight-lipped statements. Topping is on the sunny side of 50.

If Topping expected Stengel to ride along with the usual platitudes about faithful service to the mother company, it's been swell working with such a fine bunch of fellas and come to see me in California if you're out that way, he had a shock. We doubt he had a shock. It's likelier he knew what was coming and decided the only thing to do was keep his chin up and wait for the feathers to settle. He knew Stengel (no well to expect a happy ending.

Casey Stengel said what most old timers feel when they are told it's time to make room for younger men with a future. They don't feel grateful, graceful, calm or contented. They feel let down, disgruntled and sore. They doubt if they can be replaced. If they happen to have been hitting on all eight, the way Casey had been hitting, with 10 American League pennants and seven world championships in 12 years, they know darned well they can't be replaced.

If Manager Stengel can't find anything else to do in the twilight years, he could bring in a nice clutch of cash for himself and his beloved Edna giving lectures to audiences of aging Americans who have been reading about retiring gracefully and still don't see why they should try to put grace into an awkward situation.

Welcome Progress

Mayor Goodballet's proposed program to help East Liverpool maintain its position as a shopping center could provide the impetus needed to get things rolling on a broad scale.

While several civic-minded groups have been thinking in the same direction, the administration's grabbing of the bull by the horns greatly enhances the hope for speedy action. With the administration leading the way, those who have been pondering the problem on their own now will have somewhere to turn. And with such unity of effort and purpose, there is reason to believe that results will be forthcoming.

The mayor presented his program to Council this week and has been invited by the legislators to attend a caucus at their next session Nov. 7 to explore the matter further. More progress can be expected to develop from that conference.

No stone should be left unturned on behalf of improved shopping facilities.

The problem is not East Liverpool's alone. Other communities face similar shopping situations. Our hope, however, is to outstrip the others in the speed with which we come up with the best possible answer.

Cuba May Not Wait For Nov. 8

We have no idea what the Kennedy campaigners have in mind to say next about Cuba. But if they stay in the groove, they will go at Cuba hammer and tongs until they have milked it for all the headlines they can get out of it, the way they worked over Quemoy and Matsu.

Cuba was coming up next. In all probability, the Kennedys also have the South American republics on their list of things to badger the Eisenhower administration about before Nov. 8.

But Cuba suddenly is in a special category. The U.S. government has taken the drastic step of imposing economic sanctions on Cuba. No experts of any nature that might be useful if Cuba launched a military adventure will be permitted without a license, and no licenses are likely.

Cuba may not wait for Nov. 8 to make the fateful move that would bring it into a military conflict with the United States —an attack on the U.S. naval station at Guantanamo. Cuban extremists led by Fidel Castro and his Communist accomplices have exhausted the possibilities of seizing the private property of U.S. citizens and companies. Their ultimate step would be to seize the public property of the United States.

They would do this to precipitate war. Their purpose would be to make the United States test the Organization of American States as a means of protecting its stake in a military installation, as devilish a scheme as any dictatorial regime ever cooked up to test the ingenuity, wisdom and patience of another government. From Castro's point of view, it would be the means of driving a wedge between the United States and its Latin American allies.

John Kennedy should lay off any more shooting from the hip on the subject of Cuba. Richard Nixon should lay off, too. Both men should defer from now on to the only American who can make policy in this delicate problem of how to handle a revolution that was turned into a counter-revolution by the perfidy of the Communist Conspiracy.

Cuba is Dwight Eisenhower's responsibility now. It's time again for all office-seekers to shut their mouths at the water's edge, where politics is supposed to stop.

Go To The Source

There can be no argument against Sheriff Clayton Hobbs' suggestion that a community center be established in the tri-state area as a partial answer to the teenage problem for which some taverns must be held greatly responsible.

It would be wonderful if the immediate district could boast of a center such as that at Weirton. And, as the sheriff commented, it probably would serve to some degree as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

However, a community center seems a secondary solution to the major problem. The evil must be erased at its source. All taverns are not guilty of selling to teenagers, but those which are should be policed constantly, with the severest penalties inflicted when justified.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Castro has seized all rented homes and turned them over to tenants who must regard Cuban government as landlord. Will this mean firing squad for a guy who gets behind in the rent?

If he has a leak under the sink and asks Fidel to take care of the plumbing repairs will he get a four-hour radio speech announcing a Fix-It-Yourself Program?

Castro's seizure of rented homes could boomerang against the dictator, since Mr. and Mrs. Cuba merely switch rent payments from former owner to the government.

It's hard to believe happiness can come through government control of such matters as painting the bungalow, replacing shingles on roof and pumping out the cellar.

When a Cuban phones Fidel's rental bureau and says, "Look, the wife says the living room is in such shape, you've got to send over a paperhanger," there's a big chance Castro will charge him with treasonable efforts to undermine the government, bring back Batista and make Cuba a slave state.

The wife, who suggested new wallpaper, may even be arrested charged with being in the pay of Yankee imperialists and a secret partner in conspiracy to keep Guantanamo Naval Base under American operation.

If the Cuban chief of the Cuban Department of Rent Collections has as much trouble as most landlords getting rent on time, will he face an execution squad?

And in view of Fidel's hysteria at the mention of colonialism, won't a Cuban looking for "a colonial style home" wind up in Morro Castle, to say nothing of a tenant who is reported having a garden with red, white and blue flowers? (Former owners are told by Castro they will get monthly indemnity from the government to make up for losses in rentals. Wanna bet?)

It's Never Cheap

McClellan Readies Move On Mob

By Victor Riesel

No matter who wins on Election Day, the mob will lose exactly one week later. Sen. McClellan will be back in business. The returns on his subpenas will start rolling in on the morning of Nov. 15 in the Senate Office Building.

Victor Riesel

His new committee—a section of the Senate government operations probing group — has operating on a smaller budget with fewer investigators. But it will shovel deeply into some of the New York Teamsters locals.

It will show that the mob never took a holiday. What the McClellan staff did was to follow up observations of the old McClellan Select Committee—such as these: ". . .(the mob) brought 40 men into the labor movement in positions of trust and responsibility.

"Men, who among them, had be arrested a remarkable total of 170 times and convicted on 77 of those occasions for crimes ranging from theft, violation of the Harrison Narcotics Act, extortion, conspiracy, bookmaking, use of stench bombs, felonious assault, robbery, possession of an unregistered still, burglary, violation of the gun laws, being an accessory to murder, forgery, possession of stolen mail and disorderly conduct."

THIS IS MERELY a biographical note on the proletarian pretenders reflecting their qualifications for leadership in these circles. After they moved into a handful of Teamsters locals, 25 of the 40 were convicted or indicted for extortion, perjury, bribery and forgery.

Some of these characters will get a chance to make their television debuts without getting a chance to declare, with injured feelings, that they were persecuted for political reasons.

The hearing will run most of the week. It will be prelude to other testimony involving at least three other cities.

This carries the public probing mighty close to early December when provisional president James Hoffa wanted to run a national Teamsters convention—in Miami Beach, of course.

Hoffa had hoped to conduct a swift four-day convention, the most important order of business being his re-election as permanent president.

FOR SOME utterly whimsical reason, no doubt, Hoffa has moved up his arrangements. He now has an option on a big Bal Harbour hotel convention hall set for the first two weeks in January.

Should he have to postpone his conclave past Jan. 15, the sacrifice will be great. The Teamsters will hit the Florida winter season rush and be forced to give up their option.

This would move them to Chicago in cold weather and you know how tough that is on hard-working delegates.

By that time, there will have been several new McClellan committee hearings in the old rip-roaring tradition.

These will create an atmosphere in which the new secretary of labor, be he Republican or Democrat, will have little alternative but to make his first order of business intervention into the teamsters election of convention delegates. He would act under something called Section 601. Few know of it outside the Labor Department.

YOU'LL HEAR MUCH of this bit of the Landrum-Griffin Act. It says, in effect, the secretary of labor has the right to anticipate violation.

Whenever he believes it necessary to learn whether any person has violated, or is about to violate, any provision of the act, he can subpena books and witnesses.

He can grant immunity to witnesses. This means that they won't be able to take the "Fifth" on the grounds that they would incriminate themselves.

The secretary can use Section 607 too. This gives him the right to work with all other government agencies.

Thus he will be able to step in after Sen. McClellan's disclosures—and, with the cooperation of the Department of Justice, change the union's plans.

Old Pros Have Bad Year

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

When the Yankees sacked Casey Stengel it just went to show this has been a bad year all around for the old pros.

Take politics. None of the men around Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy is a political sentimentalist. But almost all are young.

The oldtimers in both parties have been shoved into the background.

Two of the biggest old pros still loose in the land, former President Truman and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, tried to sidetrack Kennedy's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He ran right over them.

Nixon didn't have to demolish any Republican giants to get what he wanted. He spent seven years as vice president sewing up the Republican presidential nomination long before he ever got to the convention.

Neither Nixon nor Kennedy, of course, is a political chicken. Even though they're both in their 40s, each has been in Congress 14 years and each knows his way around in campaigns. They've been in some rough ones before this.

The closest thing to an old-time pro in either camp is Leonard Hall, Nixon's campaign manager, a former Republican national chairman who was in Congress for years and has been mixed up in politics since back in the 1920s when he was sheriff of Nassau County, N.Y.

But Hall is staying pretty much out of sight, doing a lot of his work by telephone.

Further up front is 35-year old Robert Finch, a lawyer who's been in California politics for years, ran twice unsuccessfully for Congress, and has the title of campaign director for Nixon.

Kennedy didn't go hunting among the professionals, old or young, for his campaign manager. He picked his younger brother, Robert, who had been attorney for the Senate's rackets committee.

When he was with the committee the younger Kennedy brought in an old family friend, Phillip Kenneth O'Donnell, 26, a former Harvard football player and war veteran, as his top assistant.

The Kennedys took O'Donnell along for the campaign. He's the senator's chief trouble-shooter now.

As his chief assistant Kennedy has 32-year-old Theodore C. Sorenson, who will probably be White House chief of staff if Kennedy wins.

Another old Kennedy family friend—Lawrence F. O'Brien, 43-year-old lawyer and public relations man—is in charge of organizing the Democrats around the country. He did pretty well for Kennedy in his primary fights this year.

So, with the exception of Hall and Truman, who is making some campaign speeches for Kennedy, there is hardly a political Stengel in sight.

Bigotry And The UAW

By David Lawrence

Union Paper Criticized For Stand

The latest sensation of the campaign is the exploitation of the so-called religious issue by the United Auto Workers of America, the principal labor union in the automobile industry.

David Lawrence

In the union's own newspaper there appeared on Sept. 26 last a four-page insert calling on the members of the union to support Sen. Kennedy, Democrat, on account of the bigotry issue.

Four pages were devoted to material in support of Sen. Kennedy, and the front page was taken up entirely with drawings of the Statute of Liberty holding aloft a torch and a hooded member of the Ku Klux Klan carrying a torch in one hand and a club in the other.

The following was the headline in big type across the page alongside the drawings: "Which Do You Choose? Liberty or Bigotry."

Although this was first printed several weeks ago, it has not been publicly repudiated by anyone connected with the union.

In fact, the auxiliary political organization of the union has since had a million extra copies printed for public distribution in the campaign.

When Walter Reuther, president of the union, was asked in Detroit on Monday whether he would repudiate the document, he didn't exactly do so.

WHAT HE SAID was merely a criticism of those who, he claims, had "misinterpreted" it. He expressed regret at the "implication some may have drawn" that the newspaper supplement was exploiting the religious issue.

He explained that, if the United Auto Workers erred—he did not say he believed it had erred — then it was an error of judgment and "not of intent."

He added, "We did not intend to imply that people who disagreed with us politically are bigots."

He did not explain why three weeks had elapsed without any comment from him or any effort leaflets reprinting the article and the drawings.

Here is a newspaper published by a union comprised of Protestants as well as Catholics, Republicans as well as Democrats, all of whom pay to the union dues which in this case were used to publish a document of political partisanship.

Not only was Sen. Kennedy's speech before the Protestant ministers at Houston published in full but not a single word about Vice President Nixon's denunciation of the so-called religious issue was contained in the newspaper or its supplement.

The Michigan Fair Election Practices Commission has issued a statement condemning the UAW newspaper article and has said that, "This leaflet unmistakably implies that the issue of the campaign is between freedom and the Ku Klux Klan."

THE COMMISSION added that the pamphlet "in effect smears one of the parties, and attempts to exploit the religious issue for political advantage. Bigotry is not to be fought with bigotry in reverse."

The "Detroit News," which in a copyrighted article published the first news of the UAW statement about bigotry, said flatly that the pamphlet implied that "only bigots oppose Kennedy."

President Eisenhower, who happened to be in Detroit on Monday, referred to the UAW article in a spech during the day to an audience of 6,000 persons gathered at the civic center.

Although he didn't mention the UAW by name, his secretary, James C. Hagerty, said afterward that Mr. Eisenhower had the UAW article in mind when he said in his speech:

"I believe that anyone who is guilty in America of putting out any kind of document that tries to tear down our self-respect, which tries to make us believe that we are not trying to do the good and best things for ourselves and the rest of the world, this is a disservice to the United States.

"And I repeat, I care not from what source any such calumnies can come, but I say to the people of Detroit, as I should like to say it to all America: Just be true to yourselves, and don't be misled by anyone who, for any reason, would seek advantage in distortions, falsehood and wrongdoing."

THE PRESIDENT referred again in a later speech the same day to "evil propaganda" which is "trying to make someone forget that we are a nation that loves decency, that believes in fair play, and that we are ready to vote our convictions according to the conscience of each of us."

There is a law, passed by Congress several years ago, which prohibits unions or corporations from using their funds for political campaigns in federal elections, but the Supreme Court of the United States as yet has failed to reverse or uphold local courts which have ruled that the use of union dues for political purposes is a denial of the rights of the individuals who pay dues to a union.

Letters To The Editor

Being greatly concerned about the problem of juvenile delinquency about which we read very frequently in the daily papers, I was very much impressed with the following article. This article was published in the September 1960 issue of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen's Magazine and reads as follows:

"Not long ago a New York City judge wrote the New York Times saying that in the 17 years he had been on the bench not one Chinese teenager had been brought before him on a juvenile delinquency charge.

"P. H. Chang, Chinese consul-general in New York, commented: 'I have heard this many times from many judges. . . Filial piety is a cardinal virtue my people have brought over from the China that was free.

"A Chinese child, no matter where he lives, is brought up to recognize he cannot shame his parents. Before a Chinese child makes a move, he stops to think what the reaction of his parents will be. Will they be proud, or will they be ashamed? Above all other things, the Chinese teenager is anxious to please his parents.

"The amazing record of the Chinese children shows that it is in the home that the cure for juvenile delinquency will be found—and in no other place."

I strongly believe that if the parents of today would take this idea to heart and teach their children accordingly, giant steps could be made toward curing our juvenile delinquency problems.

GEORGE G. HOUGH
1623 Lincoln Ave.
Wellsville

Regarding the coming election as to whom shall be our next president, let us face the real facts before we decide to cast our vote.

The answer to today's problem isn't legislation. It is work, work and more work so efficient so that costs and prices come down and jobs go up. But not on a 32-hour basis, for the breakdown comes there. For we don't decide a work week, we produce it. We don't decide how long we want to work in a week, but we do decide how much we wish to take home at the end of that week according to what we have produced in labor.

When someone tells you to cut your work week into less hours and still demand the same pay, they are telling you to raise the costs and therefore raise the prices. The result is a ruined job.

Let us give an honest day's work, so we may receive an honest day's wages. As the Bible says in the Book of Nehemiah — The people had a mind to work, it also says be satisfied with thy wages, and as you and I are living in the most wonderful country in the world, where freedom rules, speeches are free to make and worship for each individual is his chosen desire.

In regards to the pottery situation, I would suggest both sides take time out to pray, for prayer certainly does change things if done in sincerity.

As far as a depression in the dinnerware business is concerned, there will never be a depression according to the American Ceramic Products, Inc., makers of Winfield China. Here is a firm that has challenged foreign competition and overcome all obstacles.

This firm does three times the volume of business it used to do. The American market is far from saturation in the dinnerware line. For only 17 families out of every 100 families have a complete set of dinnerware. So says this firm. The answer to this problem in the pottery industry, isn't more tariff, but better merchandising, with salesmen who have the know-how to sell. So let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter:

Pertaining to one's life in this world, and the world to come: Fear God, and keep His Commandments for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring into judgment, every work whether good or evil. So vote right and we will live right.

Wellsville Burning Ban To Be Lifted 2 Weeks

Mayor William J. Shoub announced today the ban on burning inside the city limits will be lifted for two weeks beginning Monday to allow residents to clear the yards of leaves and get rid of garden refuse.

Shoub said the ban will be reimposed Nov. 5. He pointed out that residents should use extreme caution and said they still are responsible for any damage resulting from fires.

He said the leaves should not be burned on blacktop streets because the heat melts the tar and causes damage. No rubbish or garbage can be burned, he said.

Club Meets Candidates

County's GOP Head Cites Damages From Imports

Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem, Columbiana County Republican chairman, told the Men's Republican Club at City Hall Wednesday night that "U. S. markets are flooded with foreign-made goods detrimental to the interests and welfare of our industrial workers and their families."

He spoke at the city club's "Meet Your Candidate" rally held in the Council chambers and 8 of the party's 12 candidates attended.

As a step towards the correction of the imports problem, Whitacre said he would advocate:

1.—That our incoming Ohio Legislature recommend, by resolution, to the U.S. Congress, that a study be made of our tariff laws pertaining to foreign made goods, where the living standards of those countries, is not equal to ours in the United States.

2.—"To encourage all individual taxpayers: Have an increase in dependents' exemption from $600 to $800, for each dependent.

2.—"To stimulate general corporation expansion: Replacement of outmoded taxes, and reduce corporate taxes from 52 to 47 per cent.

4.—"Modify tax write-off formulae to allow more rapid depreciation. Many companies would welcome this, and would capitalize upon the incentive to expand, thereby creating an improved labor market."

He predicted Vice President Richard Nixon will carry Columbiana County by more than 8,000 votes in the Nov. 8 presidential election. He also predicted the two GOP candidates for state legislature will win.

Frank Youst, vice president, led the pledge of allegiance. Samuel Webber, president, presided. Cider and doughnuts were served by D. G. Wilkinson and committee.

The club will meet again next Wednesday night at 7:30 at City Hall.

Parochial Bus Inspection Set

Three new school buses for the St. Aloysius Parochial School are to be inspected when final safety requirements are met, Donald Barnes of the Tri-State Transit Co. said today.

Barnes and school officials today said the buses for the system now are being operated by Tri-State, not by Andrew Holtz as previously reported by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon in a summary of bus inspections. Holtz operated the buses last year.

The patrol said the St. Aloysius buses were the only ones in the county which had not yet been inspected.

Barnes said today two new buses have already been put into operation for the school, and a third new bus is to be delivered next week.

He said when the equipment and safety standards of the new vehicles are readied for the company standards, the buses will be inspected by the patrol.

Barnes pointed out the buses are sometimes obtained with safety equipment, such as turn signals and flasher lights which do not conform to Ohio standards, and have to be changed. He said the patrol will be requested to inspect the vehicles when all such modifications are made.

Parents Of 2 Youths Cited For 'Resisting'

LISBON — Two East Palestine area youths, 16 and 17, and their parents were taken before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin today after the adults were cited by sheriff's deputies who had gone to their home in investigating a breaking and entering at Rogers.

Deputies said the parents refused to let them talk to the boys and other children stoned the sheriff's cruiser. The boys were reprimanded and the parents were warned that if the offense is ever repeated they would be placed in the County Jail until they "learn how to co-operate with law enforcement officials." The judge ordered one of the youths to have his working certificate signed and presented in his office Monday.

Jury Receives Finch-Tregoff Retrial Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury is at last deliberating in the Finch-Tregoff murder retrial—the longest criminal hearing in Los Angeles County history.

For 16½ weeks one man and eleven women jurors have heard evidence and argument supporting and denying the state's claim that Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, killed his wife.

The handsome, balding surgeon, 42, was red-faced in apparent anger as a prosecutor told the jury Wednesday: "We have demonstrated the guilt of these two defendants."

Then Finch appeared composed as the jury filed out after the judge's instructions. He yawned. He clasped the hand of red-haired Miss Tregoff, 23, his onetime receptionist, and spoke reassuringly to her.

She smiled, but her lip trembled. Her brown eyes moistened as a matron led her back to jail.

After an overnight stay at a hotel, the jury continues deliberating on an issue on which a previous jury deadlocked last March:

The charge that Finch and Miss Tregoff went to his estranged wife's home in suburban West Covina the night of July 18, 1959, and that he deliberately shot socialite Barbara Jean Finch, 36, to death. The state says the defendants wanted to avoid sharing his wealth with his wife in a divorce settlement.

The physician and his codefendant say they went to the house to discuss a divorce with Mrs. Finch, that she produced a gun and it discharged accidentally as Finch grabbed it and tried to throw it away. Mrs. Finch died of a bullet in the back.

The first trial took 11 weeks. After nearly 40 hours of sometimes highly emotional deliberation, the jury deadlocked and was discharged. It was later disclosed to have split 10-2 to convict Finch, 8-4 to acquit Miss Tregoff.

Wellsville Burning Ban To Be Lifted 2 Weeks

Mayor William J. Shoub announced today the ban on burning inside the city limits will be lifted for two weeks beginning Monday to allow residents to clear the yards of leaves and get rid of garden refuse.

Shoub said the ban will be reimposed Nov. 5. He pointed out that residents should use extreme caution and said they still are responsible for any damage resulting from fires.

He said the leaves should not be burned on blacktop streets because the heat melts the tar and causes damage. No rubbish or garbage can be burned, he said.

Club Meets Candidates

County's GOP Head Cites Damages From Imports

Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem, Columbiana County Republican chairman, told the Men's Republican Club at City Hall Wednesday night that "U. S. markets are flooded with foreign-made goods detrimental to the interests and welfare of our industrial workers and their families."

He spoke at the city club's "Meet Your Candidate" rally held in the Council chambers and 8 of the party's 12 candidates attended.

As a step towards the correction of the imports problem, Whitacre said he would advocate:

1.—That our incoming Ohio Legislature recommend, by resolution, to the U.S. Congress, that a study be made of our tariff laws pertaining to foreign made goods, where the living standards of those countries, is not equal to ours in the United States.

2.—"To encourage all individual taxpayers: Have an increase in dependents' exemption from $600 to $800, for each dependent.

2.—"To stimulate general corporation expansion: Replacement of outmoded taxes, and reduce corporate taxes from 52 to 47 per cent.

4.—"Modify tax write-off formulae to allow more rapid depreciation. Many companies would welcome this, and would capitalize upon the incentive to expand, thereby creating an improved labor market."

He predicted Vice President Richard Nixon will carry Columbiana County by more than 8,000 votes in the Nov. 8 presidential election. He also predicted the two GOP candidates for state legislature will win.

Frank Youst, vice president, led the pledge of allegiance. Samuel Webber, president, presided. Cider and doughnuts were served by D. G. Wilkinson and committee.

The club will meet again next Wednesday night at 7:30 at City Hall.

Ken Woods, football coach, spoke on the varsity game with Salem to be held Friday night. Films were screened of the Wellsville-Weirton Madonna game.

Plans were made to cook and serve a dinner to be held by the Athletic Association for the football team, cheerleaders, coaches and managers Nov. 10.

Parochial Bus Inspection Set

Last Payment Set In Water Main Project

Final payment of $15,657.20 to W. Paul Brooks & Sons of Beaver Falls for construction of a new water line on Midland Ave. west was approved by the Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday night.

The contractor was requested to begin work immediately on a new extension to connect the sewage plant property with the Midland Ave. line. The company's low bid of $7,661.50 for the job was accepted at the authority's meeting Sept. 21.

Donald Craik, manager, served as secretary, and read a letter from Borough Council that it would pay $5,300 from the plant's construction fund towards the project.

Granville Kester, Michael Baker Jr., Inc., engineer for the authority, was asked to prepare a tentative budget for next year so that the authority may begin negotiations soon for a new contract for water department employes.

Rudolph Presutti, labor committee chairman, said a meeting will be set with the employes' union representative after the authority makes a study.

Presutti's purchasing committee was asked to make a recommendation concerning new electric check valves to replace manual checks. Three valves are needed and would cost about $3,885 installed and probably will be included in next year's budget.

The board approved a motion of Presutti, on the recommendation of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, president, that Borough Council will be asked to request the authority to put fluoride in the borough's water.

Kester informed members that the request for fluoride must come from Council who would hold public hearings to inform and to find out opinions of residents.

Dr. Sigal said fluoride would be a definite help and offer protection to teeth. The project must have approval of the State Health Department, but this could be easily obtained since Midland has good plant control, Kester said.

A few complaints of sidewalks damaged by the water line construction in the West End were reported taken care of by the contractor, Presutti said. Some five trees were removed in the Spring Ln. area.

Craik, manager, was asked to have someone from the Shippingport atomic plant attend the next meeting Nov. 17 to discuss the possibility of radiation in the Ohio River.

Bills in the amount of $52,745.10 were ordered paid.

closely involved in the construction of the W. H. Sammis plant.

The Corps of Engineers is constructing the Stratton super-dam adjoining the new power plant. Authorized by Congress and costing about $50 million, the dam will have the largest locks of any on the Ohio River and will replace three older ones.

Another factor in the riverfront development was the highway department's need for relocation and straightening of Route 7. Co-ordination of the construction activities of all three parties resulted in certain construction economies.

Ground for the W. H. Sammis plant was broken in May 1956.

The first of the four generating units went into commercial operation in August 1959, and the second on July 1. The third is scheduled for operation in the summer of 1961 and the fourth in the summer of 1962.

A coal unloading dock is now under construction 2,500 feet north of the plant.

Ohio Edison serves all or part of 35 counties in the Central and Northeastern part of Ohio, and through its subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power, 5 counties in western Pennsylvania.

American Legion Post 86 of Toronto conducted a flag - raising ceremony. The Stranton Local High School Band played the national anthem. Mayor Michael E. Misconish of Stratton spoke briefly.

Driver Of School Bus Fined After Collision

A school bus driver was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a collision Tuesday in East End in which his empty vehicle hit the rear of a halted or slowing car.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff meted out the penalty to Earl H. Polen, 313 W. 6th St., cited by the State Highway Patrol after the bus hit the rear of a car driven by Concetta Penna, 34, of Steubenville. The judge imposed a $25 fine, but suspended $15.

The patrol, which investigates all school bus mishaps, said Polen's bus was third in a line of traffic. It was trailing the woman driver, who was following another empty school bus, the patrol said. When the first bus halted on Pennsylvania Ave. near Garfield School, the woman slowed or halted and her car was hit from the rear by Polen's bus, the patrol said. The patrol did not obtain the name of the other school bus driver.

Sewage Plant Start Urged

The city, since 1953, has had a preliminary survey made for a treatment plant and trunk line system, and has applied twice for federal aid for the program — both times being turned down for priority listing. A sanitary board has also been created to arrange for the project and to administer the system when completed.

Horton wrote the commission "expects the city of Chester to proceed without delay to construct and place in operation such facilities as may be necessary to bring the city into compliance with the sewage-treatment requirements which have been established ... pursuant to the authority of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Compact.

"Sewage - treatment requirements for that portion of the Ohio River on which the city of Chester is located were duly established on April 29, 1953, and notice thereof was forwarded by registered mail to the city of Chester on June 19, 1953.

"It is the opinion of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission that ample time has elapsed since enactment of the ...compact and the promulgation of the sewage-treatment requirements thereunder for the city of Chester to have taken action to provide the facilities necessary... Failure to do so within the time which has been available places the city of Chester in violation of the terms, provisions and conditions of the ...compact."

Horton said the city is "hereby called upon to arrange as promptly as possible to discuss this matter with Dr. Dyer...for the purpose of developing a suitable timetable for bringing about compliance by the city of Chester with the requirements of the ...compact which may be submitted to the commission for consideration at its next meeting Jan. 12."

Council Head's Car Damaged

Chester police today were investigating two hit-skip mishaps—one damaging the car of East Liverpool Council president Charles Edwards and the other a Bergholz woman's auto.

Edwards, 543 Mulberry St., reported to Patrolman Clarence Lennens Wednesday afternoon his car was sideswiped on the Chester Bridge about 3:20.

Edwards said the other car, with a Virginia license plate, halted after the collision, and the driver gave him a card which he said bore his name, and was asked to meet the other man "at the end of the bridge."

Edwards said he waited for the other driver who did not show up, so he reported it to the police. Lennens traced the registration of the car to Chester Leroy Turler of Berryville, Va. Edwards' 1956 sedan received considerable damage, according to Lennens, who said the name on the card given Edwards was not Turler.

Elizabeth Turvey of Bergholz reported her 1956 convertible coupe was struck by a red pickup truck while parked on Fairview Rd. yesterday afternoon. The mishap was seen by a neighbor while the owner of the auto was visiting in East Liverpool at the time.

Damage was minor, Lennens said.

'Boulwarism' Could Spread

Novel Mode Of Bargaining Being Tested In GE Strike

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A novel mode of collective bargaining — pegged on beating a labor union at its own game—is now being tested in the crucible of industrial conflict at General Electric Co.

The industry and union men who keep thrashing out the terms of the nation's major labor contracts are intently watching the battle.

Because if the plan works it could spread to other industries.

The showdown is between one of the nation's largest corporations, General Electric, and one of the top labor organizations, the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The GE approach to labor bargaining is two-fold:

First, a steady, unremitting drumfire of "Papa knows best" counseling to the workers contending that the company, rather than the union, is their best protector and welfare provider.

Second, a sizable contract offer containing "everything the company believes to be right" and, except for minor variations, sticking to it even if it means a strike.

The system has worked well—in the sense that the company views have substantially prevailed without incurring any company-wide labor stoppages—since GE Vice President Lemuel R. Boulware devised the technique in the late 1940s.

In fact, it's worked so well a new word, "Boulwarism," has been coined by industrial relations practitioners.

But the plan is meeting an acid test. The present strike is not only the first major walkout at GE since "Boulwarism" came into vogue; it's also the first time in years that a major employer has tried to keep plants operating in face of a strike.

What are the effects of the plan on GE's employes? And on the union? It seems to leave the workers confused in their loyalties, and the union in a state of angry frustration.

The Schenectady local already has shown signs of revolt against the strike by returning to work. Other locals may follow.

James B. Carey, head of the IUE and the onetime "wonder boy" of the old CIO, hasn't been able to get his IUE membership to go on strike all these years in an effort to better GE's offers.

In 1958, the now-expired IUE-GE contract called for "employment security" negotiations. The IUE asked for supplemental unemployment benefits to boost income of workers laid off because of increased plant mechanization. The company countered with a scheme to help workers accumulate savings by buying company stock. No agreement resulted.

Meanwhile, Carey got his union to change its rule, thus making it harder for some IUE elements to block his calling future strikes. These rule changes have led GE to question publicly how much employe support there is for the present strike.

Certainly a worker is bound to have questions on the value of his dues payments to a union that can't wangle better settlement terms than a company will give willingly. Thus the GE policy tends to minimize the union's role in industrial life.

The company stands by its system, saying: "General Electric believes its approach is sounder than auction-type bargaining which can start out with unrealistic claims on both sides, and then lead to drawn-out haggling."

GE deals with some 100 different unions and never seems to have the troubles with the others that it experiences with Carey's union. But the IUE is the largest and as such gets most management attention and the full "Boulwarism" treatment. The IUE says the other unions are handled more tenderly.

Carey has proposed calling off the present strike for a month if only GE will sweeten its proposals. But a recent GE memorandum stated: "In the light of the Electric and the comprehensive nature of the company's proposal, we have no intention of yielding to Mr. Carey's plans for further increases in the offer."

Will other employers take a cue from GE? Some already have to the extent of consistently pounding home the management position on employe problems.

But IUE represents only about half of GE's production workers and in many GE plants has no members at all. Thus the company can keep operating, partially at least, during a strike. Also many of its products are stockpiled well in advance. So in many ways "Boulwarism" is peculiarly tailored to GE's own situation.

Library's Trio Of New Books Concerns Campaign Issues

Adlai Stevenson has described the "Liberal Hour" as the period just before the presidential election when the most obsolete men become realistic.

John Galbraith, who wrote the recent best-seller, "The Affluent Society," uses this as the title for his new book which deals with competition with the Russians, inflation and historical myths.

Alongside this volume at the Carnegie Public Library is a trio of books which discuss basic campaign issues:

"Duel at the Brink" is John Foster Dulles memoirs including definite appraisals of the Quemoy-Matsu issues; "Stride Toward Freedom," cogent comments by Martin Luther King on the desegregation problem, and an "American Dialogue" by Robert McAfee Brown and Fr. Gustave Weigel. The latter contains the candid comments of a Catholic looking at contemporary Protestantism and a Protestant surveying today's Catholic world.

A final political commentary for the new book shelf is Joe Martin's "My First Fifty Years in Politics." Robert Donovan, who is chief of the New York Herald Tribune's Washington Bureau has provided the actual writing.

Books of popular philosophy always fill a need for the person who has difficulty adjusting to people — hence the great fad for Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Fortunately there are some recent writers still mining this same vein. Ben Swetland, who writes a popular psychology column, calls his book of advice, "I Will." Eleanor Roosevelt's distillation of life's experience is titled "You Learn by Living."

Church workers will find definite assistance in the following volumes:

"The Spiritual Education of Our Children," by Jessie Orton Jones; "Church Education for Tomorrow," by Wesner Fallaw; "Answered Prayer in the Mission Field," by Basil Miller, and Peter F. Anson's "Fashions in Church Furnishings."

Two autobiographies already on the best-seller lists are "Nor Scrip, Nor Shoes" by Fr. John McGoey and Steve Allen's "Mark It and Strike It."

Fr. McGooey was one of the American missionaries who had to walk out of China and he has some pretty bitter things to say about the experts sent over by government agencies to assist them.

Allen's book sparkles with a zest for living and some caustic comments about the current state of the entertainment world.

Since happiness is derived also from physical well-being a pair of books is included in this area: "Walk and Be Happy," by Benjamin Kauth, and "Toward Health and Wholeness" by Russell Dicks.

Q. How can I remedy a baseboard or some wood trim in my home, which has warped away from the wall?

A. Try drilling a clearance hole through the board at its greatest bulge and then running a flat-headed screw into the stud underneath. If you're unable to pull the board up all the way, fill the space between the board and the wall with some putty, or plaster, and paint.

Q. How can I bring out the full flavor of raisins and dates?

A. Try soaking them in a little boiling water for about five minutes. Two tablespoons of boiling water for each half-cup of fruit will be satisfactory.

Q. How can I keep plants healthy in the winter?

A. Cold tea or milk will make plants blossom in the winter time. Alternate with water every other day.

A Democratic luncheon is slated at the Travelers Hotel Wednesday noon by the eight Democratic Women's Clubs in Columbiana County to feature the county, district and state party candidates and their wives.

The luncheon will be part of a caravan tour of the 18th Congressional District next week, Mrs. Kay Blackburn, county chairwoman, said.

The caravan, planned by Miss Esther Pinsky, state central committeewoman, will later visit the city headquarters of the party where the East Liverpool Democratic Women's Club will sponsor a tea.

Women of the area are invited to the tea to be held from 2 to 4 p. m., Mrs. Blackburn said.

Spcl. 5C Cecil E. Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grimes, 2127 Sherwood Ave., will represent the battalion in the career competition.

A member of Headquarters Co., he joined the Army in 1958 and has served most of his tour at Ft. Benning. He received his present rank in September.

Grimes attended East Liverpool High School and Kenyon College. He is married to the former Mary Ann Todd of Wellsville, and the couple resides in Columbus, Ga.

Counsel Loses Legal Battle

Court Rejects Bid To Air Sunday Sales Convictions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Counsel representing store owners in Toledo and Cleveland have lost a legal round in their battle to prove that Ohio's liberalized Sunday "blue laws" are too general.

The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday refused to review convictions of stores in the two cities for violation of statutes changed by the last legislature. The revised laws permit Sunday sale of products necessary for travel, recreation, entertainment, exhibitions and fairs.

Appealed were convictions of Giant Tiger stores in Cleveland, for selling an $18 lawn mower and a 10-cent electric wall plug, and a Family Fair store, in Toledo, for selling a 29-cent package of paper doilies.

Counsel for the store owners termed the revised laws too general. They contended the laws would permit sale on Sunday of new and used automobiles, luggage and other things "necessary for travel."

City officials, however, claimed that lower courts had sufficient precedent from earlier blue law cases to decide any new litigation involving Sunday sales.

The 1959 legislature, in an avowed attempt to modernize the blue laws, amended long-standing statutes which banned common labor and most business on Sunday, except for work of necessity or charity. Original exemptions applied to those observing the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath.

In other action, the high court let stand refusal of Cuyahoga County courts to award damages to Mrs. Inez Nicholson for the 1955 death of her son, William, 33, after an exchange of blows with Patrolman John R. Malone in the Kinsman Grill, Cleveland.

The suit charged Malone with fatally beating Nicholson with his fists and a revolver. The officer claimed he acted in self-defense after Nicholson knocked him down while Malone was attempting to remove Nicholson at the tavern owner's request.

The Supreme Court also:

Refused to review Cuyahoga County court decisions upholding the will, but not a codicil, of Mrs. Grace L. Roseman, widow of the founder of Standard Drug Co., who died in 1957 at age 80 leaving an estate "running into the millions." The codicil dated a month before Mrs. Roseman's death made a bequest to Harry R. Martinson. The suit against Martinson and administrator Robert W. Campbell was brought by Paul Roseman and Byron Austin, heirs of Mrs. Roseman's deceased husband, and Emma Doran Sullivan, a first cousin of Mrs. Roseman. Records showed that of 48 heirs-at-law, half of them live outside Ohio.

Let stand an injunction granted to Kenneth C. Melvin and other property owners on Belleview Avenue, Chillicothe, against assessments for water system improvements approved by the city in a 1955 resolution and a 1956 ordinance on grounds they were not notified and did not receive special benefits. Melvin's assessment was $339 and those of James E. Hinkle $541 and Robert F. Joseph $414.

Held unanimously in an $11,677 sales and use tax assessment case against Ohio Ferro-Alloys Corp., Canton, that a crane and "weigh bins" purchased for the plant should be taxed, reversing exemption allowed by an appellate court. The high court affirmed exemption allowed for chemical and a water softener used in a furnace cooling system and upheld taxation on an electric transformer. The state tax commissioner appealed from exemptions allowed by the appellate court and Ferro-Alloys, a manufacturer using the smelting process, appealed from assessments on the transformer.

Heck With The Stars Boy Depends On Police

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — John Moore thought the earth-circling balloon satellite, Echo I, offered a good chance to give some father-type instruction on astronomy.

So he explained to his sons, Alan, 4, and Jim, 5, about the wonders of the heavens and how you can find directions by spotting the North Star.

His lecture over, he asked Alan: "Now! What are you going to do if you become lost?"

"I'm going," was the quick reply, "to call a policeman and tell him I live at 204 South Hillside."

Flemming Tops Ohio Contributors In Election Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur S. Flemming is listed in House records as the biggest single contributor to the presidential campaign among Ohioans.

Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare and former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, gave $3,200 to Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge, records showed.

But records are incomplete and this doesn't necessarily mean the secretary holds the record for the current campaign among big Ohio Republican donors.

For instance, records show the Ohio Republican Finance Committee gave $56,000 to the Republican National Committee. No breakdown is available here to the public.

The Democrats' contributions seemingly haven't matched those of the Republicans. But the Democrats often receive contributions collected by labor union committees and the GOP rarely gets these donations.

Records showed Harvey Johnson of Cleveland was Ohio's biggest individual contributor to the Democratic National Committee with $600. Two Ohio Democratic congressmen — Walter Moeller and Robert W. Levering—each contributed $100.

Butte, Mont., "the richest hill in the world," has produced gold, silver, copper, zinc and manganese.

'Boulwarism' Could Spread

Novel Mode Of Bargaining Being Tested In GE Strike

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A novel mode of collective bargaining — pegged on beating a labor union at its own game—is now being tested in the crucible of industrial conflict at General Electric Co.

The industry and union men who keep thrashing out the terms of the nation's major labor contracts are intently watching the battle.

Because if the plan works it could spread to other industries.

The showdown is between one of the nation's largest corporations, General Electric, and one of the top labor organizations, the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The GE approach to labor bargaining is two-fold:

First, a steady, unremitting drumfire of "Papa knows best" counseling to the workers contending that the company, rather than the union, is their best protector and welfare provider.

Second, a sizable contract offer containing "everything the company believes to be right" and, except for minor variations, sticking to it even if it means a strike.

The system has worked well—in the sense that the company views have substantially prevailed without incurring any company-wide labor stoppages—since GE Vice President Lemuel R. Boulware devised the technique in the late 1940s.

In fact, it's worked so well a new word, "Boulwarism," has been coined by industrial relations practitioners.

But the plan is meeting an acid test. The present strike is not only the first major walkout at GE since "Boulwarism" came into vogue; it's also the first time in years that a major employer has tried to keep plants operating in face of a strike.

What are the effects of the plan on GE's employes? And on the union? It seems to leave the workers confused in their loyalties, and the union in a state of angry frustration.

The Schenectady local already has shown signs of revolt against the strike by returning to work. Other locals may follow.

James B. Carey, head of the IUE and the onetime "wonder boy" of the old CIO, hasn't been able to get his IUE membership to go on strike all these years in an effort to better GE's offers.

Integration Head, 35 Others Jailed For Picketing Stores

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Following a pledged "jail instead of bail" policy, integration leader Martin Luther King Jr., and 35 other demonstrators against segregated eating facilities were behind bars today awaiting trial on charges of violating the state anti-trespass law.

They were among 51 Negroes and one white person arrested Wednesday following a well-organized invasion of downtown Atlanta by Negroes picketing and staging sit-in demonstrations at stores with segregated lunch counters.

King, who said he was an invited participant and not a leader of the demonstrations, vowed to remain in jail a year if necessary rather than make bond. He also said the demonstrations will continue "until something is done."

Also arrested was Lonnie C. King (no kin), head of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights, which one of the demonstrators said sponsored the demonstrations.

All arrests were made at Rich's Department Store on charges of violating a 1960 act making it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave private property when requested to do so.

There was no violence during the demonstrations and picketing.

All defendants pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge James Webb. Charges against 16 were dismissed when an officer testified they had been requested to leave the dining room but not the store.

Greenisen Hits At Democrats

Galen Greenisen of near Salem, Republican candidate for county commissioner, Tuesday labeled a Democratic claim of economy at the Courthouse as "unfair," citing different operating costs in the county for 1958-1959.

Speaking at a rally attended by 200 at the Knox Local School, Greenisen, former commissioner, hit at the Democratic claim the commissioners, with a Democratic majority, had operated the county for almost $6,000 less than in 1958 when the Republicans were in control.

Greenisen said the cost of operating the Board of Elections was $94,773 in 1948 while in the following year, the cost was reduced to $53,397, a difference of $41,375.

The GOP candidate said this reduction, which resulted in a $6,000 cut in the overall county budget, stemmed from the greater cost of conducting district, state and county elections in 1958 while only municipal and township elections were held in 1959.

In the 1958 election, the county was charged the full expense, but in the smaller election, the cost was shared, Greenisen declared.

"The Democratic party should not insult the voters of the county by attempting to foist off upon them such a claim," he stated.

Other candidates spoke briefly, along with E. U. Whitacre, county GOP chairman.

Bond Conversion Rule Delays Income Tax

Owners of Series E Savings Bonds now can trade the E Bond in for Series H Bonds without immediately paying income tax on the interest accumulated.

This new conversion privilege allows one to pay taxes when his tax bracket is lower; permits tax money to earn interest for the bond owner. This means special benefits for people near retirement or already in retirement, who desire the cash interest paid twice a year by H Bonds. This exchange privilege also applies to Series F and J Bonds.

The Series H Savings Bond pays current income by automatic semi-annual interest check to provide an investment yield of 3¾ per cent per annum when held to 10 year maturity. The new H Bonds offer a higher yield in the early years: 2½ per cent for the first year and a half, then 4 per cent for the remaining 8½ years.

Individuals and organizations such as churches, service and fraternal groups labor unions, etc., are eligible to purchase the annual limit of both the Series H as well as the popular Series E appreciation Bond. Application for purchase of the H Bond may be made at any bank — minimum denominations is $500 with a cost price of $500. Application forms for exchange of E, F and J bonds for Series H are also available at one's bank as well as free information folders on both Series E and H, according to the U. S. Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division at Columbus.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Activity Termed Key To Reducing

The biggest cause of the middle spread is lack of activity—at any age. We tend to "go sedentary." We sit and settle. All the reducing talk today is on keeping the calories low enough to call on stored fat.

By Ida Jean Kain

In order to reduce it is necessary to create this calorie deficit so that nature can burn our stored fuel. But haven't we reached the law of diminishing returns on calorie cutting? True, we can lose weight on diets that are near the starvation level, but we also lose our pep and vigor. In short, we need to eat and be active. We need to use our bodies. We were created to be active human beings.

The best possible reducing program is to team diet and exercise together.

HOW MUCH WALKING do you do in the course of a day? If you would get out and walk for a mile or two every day you would soon find the greatest difference in the way you feel. You'll get a lift and feel confident ... and you'll lose more briskly on your low-calorie diet.

What role does calisthentics play in reducing? Think of calisthenics as shape-ups and you get the picture. With specific calisthenics, tone is restored to certain sets of muscles, and well-toned muscles have a better shape.

The muscles most in need of re-toning are the abdominals. When these muscles are toned and strong, you feel more like pulling up-and-in-slim through the middle as you sit, stand, and walk.

The following exercises are specifically designed to tone the girdle muscles.

Position: Lying on back on floor, feet elevated to low bench, or chair seat. Have arms out at shoulder level, elbows bent with forearms back on floor to form an L. This position of the arms squares the shoulders.

Action: Bend knees and bring them up until they are at right angles with hips. Now, forcing the middle muscles to take the action, slowly separate knees and slowly bring together — 6 to 8 times.

ACTION: Raise right leg an inch or two off floor, then slowly force the leg to move sidewards, and here again make the middle muscles do the work. Return slowly and repeat 6 to 8 times. Change position and repeat with left leg.

Important: Through these exercises, be sure to keep the "up-tuck," abdominals pulled snugly up and in, and small of back pressed flat against floor.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —Who ever heard of a bank without any money in it? Somewhere today there is a potential bank robber who thinks he has.

The would-be bandit entered a branch bank here Wednesday.

"I have a gun in my pocket," he announced. "Do you have any green stuff?"

"No," replied teller Mary Donahue.

"That sounds strange," said the bandit. But, not pressing the point, he left.

Yankees Are Set To Announce Houk As New Manager

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Today the Yankees will name a new manager. He will be 41-year-old Ralph Houk.

But never to be forgotten will be the old Yankee manager, Casey Stengel, the old man the Yankees dismissed to make room for the younger man in line with the club's new policy — the youth movement.

"The youth movement of America is for kids," blared old man Stengel in an acceptance speech Wednesday night climaxing an emotional evening during which he was given a farewell dinner party by the New York Baseball Writers.

"Sure I'm old," 70-year-old Stengel challenged an audience that included Yankee owner Dan Topping, 48, the man who fired him; George Weiss, 65, the general manager who will be the next man to be forfeited under the new "youth program" policy of the owners; and Roy Hamey, 58, who is slated to succeed Weiss, and Branch Rickey, 79, president of the dormant Continental League.

"But I thought I could build a young team. I thought I could advance skill and youth without waiting years. Don't forget it was I who started the Yankee youth program which saved the club three-four years by instructional schools in the winter. I got the youths to play baseball instead of ice skating in the winter."

All this, of course, was a pointed reference to the reason given by the Yankee ownership for his dismissal Tuesday — that Casey was too old to continue as manager.

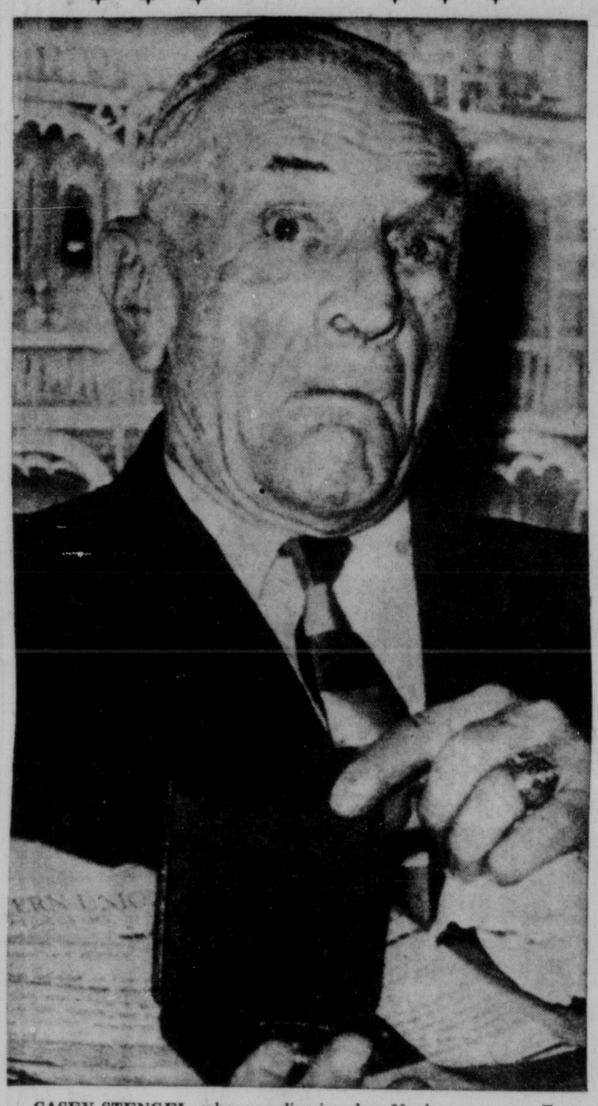

Looking directly at Topping, Stengel said: "This is not a ridicule of Topping who has the nerve and the guts to be here tonight."

Earlier Topping, obviously tense and nervous had been among the dozens of persons—baseball officials including Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Joe Cronin, writers and friends who had paid tribute to the most successful manager in baseball.

"After reading today's press," Topping said slowly, "maybe I should shut up; maybe I've said enough. I feel a little like Khrushchev when he spoke before the United Nations.

"This has been the toughest decision (firing Stengel) the Yankees have had to make in all my years with the organization."

* * *

CASEY STENGEL, who was dismissed as Yankee manager Tuesday, holds a medallion and well-wishers' telegrams at farewell dinner staged in his honor by the New York baseball writers Wednesday at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. The man who is "too old" to run the Yankees had tears in his eyes as one after another of the baseball greats and "just newspaper pals" honored him. (UPI Telephoto)

Bernie Allen Added To List Of Possible All-Americans

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Has the quarterback option play stolen the football spotlight from the game's one-time glamour boy, the halfback?

As far as the Midwest is concerned, it apparently has. The area's top candidates for All-America, today's check of The Associated Press' regional selection board disclosed, are mainly quarterbacks.

The list is headed by Iowa's Wilburn Hollis, AP back of the week. Other quarterbacks prancing in the eye-catching role once held by fleet halfbacks include Purdue's Bernie Allen, Wisconsin's Ron Miller, Ohio State's Tom Matte, Minnesota's Sandy Stephens and Northwestern's Dick Thornton.

In the various versions of the T-formation, the quarterback is the offensive kingpin. This was dramatically underscored at Iowa City Saturday when Iowa, now the No. 1 team in The Associated Press national poll, was led by Hollis to a last-minute 28-21 triumph over Wisconsin.

Observed All - America board member Oliver Kuechle of the Milwaukee Journal: "One man above all others stood out in Iowa's victory over Wisconsin—200 pound, 6-2 quarterback Wilburn Hollis. It was he who scored two of Iowa's touchdowns on runs of 31 and 9 yards; he who passed 34 yards for the winning touchdown; and he who led all ball carriers with 77 yards on 19 carries. With only an average quarterback, Iowa for all its fine speed would have been whipped."

In the same game, Wisconsin's Miller almost engineered a 21-21 tie and board member Bill Jauss of the Chicago Daily News commented that "Miller throws well enough for the pros right now."

At Purdue last Saturday, quarterback Allen, an East Liverpool, Ohio, product, was mainly instrumental in the Boilermakers' 24-21 upset of Ohio State. Commented board member Paul Horning of the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch:

"Allen did everything but drive the bus to the stadium. He did an excellent job of quarterbacking; all the passing and punting; kicked three extra points and the 33-yard field goal which was the margin of victory. He also ran effectively in the fourth period when Purdue's successful ball control kept Ohio State from striking back."

The quarterbacks, however, haven't swiped the thunder from linemen—especially tackle Jerry Beabout of Purdue and guard Tom Brown of Minnesota.

Bill Fox of the Indianapolis News said the 222-pound Beabout, from Mansfield, Ohio, distinguished himself against Ohio State "both on offense and defense." Board member Hornung said films showed Beabout "consistently led the charge which neutralized Ohio's 1-2 punch of fullback Bob Ferguson and quarterback Tom Matte."

Bert Bertine of the Champaign-Urbana (Ill.) Courier extolled Minnesota's 243-pound Brown as a "whale of a middle guard who rolls over offensive centers."

Louis, Schmeling Are Re-united At New York Dinner

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis thrust his famous right hand out from his shoulder—the same powerful right that destroyed Max Schmeling. Louis followed with his left—the same left that sent Schmeling to the ring floor more than 22 years ago.

The hands joined behind Schmeling's back, and Louis, the former heavyweight champion who once fought Schmeling with hate in his heart, said, "Great to see you, Max. You haven't put on any weight."

Schmeling, too, embraced Louis and said, "Nice to see you, too, Joe. You are looking great."

The applause of the crowd in a hotel ballroom drowned out these comments spoken by Louis in a soft whisper and by Schmeling whose English is laced with the thick accent on his native Germany.

This is how they met Wednesday night, only a few miles from Yankee Stadium where Louis was kayoed by a scowling Schmeling on June 23, 1936, then came back mercilessly to knock out Schmeling—the hero of Hitler's prewar Germany—in 2 minutes, 4 seconds of the first round on June 22, 1938.

That was another night, though. That time it took a bitter challenge by Louis to bring Schmeling across the seas for a rematch. This time Schmeling, who holds the Hamburg franchise of an American soft drink company, came on his own.

He came to be with Louis along with Jimmy Braddock, the man Louis dethroned as heavyweight champ in 1937; along with Ezzard Charles, the ex-heavyweight champ who whipped an aging Louis who had once been his hero; along with Sugar Ray Robinson, the ex-welter and middleweight champ who knew Joe as a boy in Detroit; along with Louis' family, friends and other boxing associates.

The occasion was the annual dinner of the People-to-People Sports Committee Inc., a group dedicated to fostering international good will through athletics. As part of the festivities, Louis and 17 other athletes were honored for their service to sports.

The Louis-Schmeling meeting occurred on the TV show which will be seen nationally next Sunday, (NBC, 10:30 p.m., EDT).

Quarterback Hands Off But Modesty Backfires

By JACK HAND

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP) —It was Mississippi's ball, first down on the Vanderbilt 1. Coach John Vaught sent in the orders for a quarterback sneak.

Jake Gibbs, the quarterback, handed off to another Mississippi back who fumbled the ball.

"What happened?" asked Coach Vaught when the disconsolate Gibbs returned to the bench. "Didn't you get the play?"

"Yes, I got it coach," said Gibbs. "But the other fellow did all the work coming down the field and I wanted to let him score."

"That is the kind of kid that Gibbs is," said Vaught in his office at the University of Mississippi. "He is so modest he doesn't want to score. Still he has scored four touchdowns and has thrown eight touchdown passes.

"He does everything real well, run, kick, pass or defend. We have had some good quarterbacks since I have been here but he rates with the best like Charley Conerly (1947), Ray Brown (1957) and Eagle Day (1955)."

A handsome brownhaired young man, 6-0 and 185 pounds, Jake will be 22 on Nov. 7. He is a senior in the physical education school.

Gibbs hasn't made up his mind yet whether to try pro football or pro baseball as a career. Most of the big league clubs have scouted him and there are reports that as much as $50,000 has been offered him.

"I'm finishing school first," said Jake. "I don't know which way I will go. But I am going to finish college football and also next college baseball season before I sign."

Ole Miss Tops Defensively

By The Associated Press

The Mississippi Rebels, opponents known, are a tough defensive outfit. And statistics backed them up today as records of the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed that Ole Miss finally has dislodged Syracuse as the country's leader in rushing defense.

The Rebels' consistency is unmatched in recent major college football records, with Mississippi among the top 10 in one of the four principal defense categories every week since the start of the 1956 season.

Syracuse, leader in rushing defense for more than a year, now holds only one first — a bare decision in total defense over Wyoming.

In five games, Mississippi has yielded 307 yards on 176 rushes, an average of 61.4 a game. Wyoming is second, giving up 63.2 yards average in five games, and Syracuse is fifth, with 74.8 yards in four games.

Syracuse leads in total defense, yielding 535 yards for an average of 133.8.

Northwestern, Irish To Play On Television

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A great many television viewers will watch Notre Dame and Northwestern play football this Saturday, not to mention the 55,000 who will fill the Wildcats' Dyche Stadium, and wonder why these two clubs are having their miseries.

Each has won only once in four outings, Notre Dame 21-7 over California in the season opener and Northwestern battered down Oklahoma 19-3. The Irish then were swamped 51-19 by Purdue, upset 12-7 by North Carolina and shutout 21-0 last week by Michigan State. Northwestern fell 42-0 to Iowa, 7-0 to Minnesota and 14-7 to Michigan.

Both coaches knew the good and bad of the situation before the beginning of the season, and it centered on one thing, injuries.

Notre Dame had a rash of knee operations durnig the off season and each was a question mark. Northwestern Coach Ara Parseghian feared for the health of his team.

"Though we have more depth this season, we'll have to stay healthy to be a winner," he said.

That hasn't happened. Quarterback Dick Thornton, the offensive spark of the team, tore a thigh muscle in the Oklahoma game. The Wildcats' big end, El Kimbrough, was hampered by injuries in the Minnesota game then another end, Paul Yanke missed last week's game against Michigan, and will not play Saturday. Neither will halfback Ray Purdin, fastest man in the backfield, or tackle Jack Cvercko.

Notre Dame's weak knees, and an even bigger weakness at quarterback, foretold possible doom for the Irish. The Ramblers already have lost their best halfback, Red Mack, and end John Powers for the year from injuries after the second game. Guard Myron Pottios has seen limited service because of his knee injury.

Strauss' Team Is 2-4

Struthers Brings Spotty Record Here Friday Night

Ed Strauss, former assistant coach under Lou Venditti, returns to Patterson Field Friday night and brings with him a Struthers squad which has recorded two victories in six games this season.

"We've played spotty football so far," Strauss said and "the fact we have no speed is hurting us."

Struthers is predominately a senior club and for the first time this season, the Potters almost match their opponents' weight on the forward wall.

East Liverpool and Struthers have played but one neutral opponent, Girard. The Potters scored a 22-6 win over the Indians, while Struthers won 8-6.

Strauss, in his second year as head coach at Struthers, will be seeking revenge for a 22-0 defeat suffered last season at the hands of the Potters.

East Liverpool's opponent Friday night sticks pretty much to the ground, with a halfback and a fullback leading the attack.

John McComish, a 165-pounder, will start at left half and Frank Belichick (185) will be in the fullback spot. Both have been the top ground gainers for Struthers this season.

Rounding out the backfield is a junior quarterback, Ron Lynn (165) and right halfback Jerry Barber (145).

The veteran forward wall shows Jack Stefano (160) and Jessie Sanders (160) at the ends, Tom Chako (190) and Anthony Fire (200) at tackles, Victor Melichone (165) and Rick Serman (185) at guards and Ed O'Neil (170) at center.

Strauss reported his team in good physical condition.

Struthers' defeats have been to Youngstown East, Brookfield, Steubenville Central and Youngstown Wilson. The other victory was over Austintown Fitch.

McComas Scores Twice In East Jr.'s 3rd Win

East Junior High inaugurated its new field with a 28-6 victory over Toronto Wednesday afternoon.

Quarterback Frank McComas paced Coach Dom Cascio's team to its third win in four games by scoring twice on runs of 25 and 9 yards.

McComas and Bob Mercer added two first period touchdowns which sent the Panthers on their way. Mercer ran 33 yards for his TD.

The longest touchdown run of the contest was turned in by Rick Jennings. Jennings, standing on his own 32-yard line, took the second half kickoff and raced back 68 yards for the TD.

Toronto finally smashed through East Junior's tough defensive line to score its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The game, played in a steady downpour, marked the first contest on the new football field located directly behind East Junior High School.

East will entertain Salem next Wednesday.

Mrs. Dempsey Gets Joe Louis' Autograph

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of another former heavyweight champion walked up to ex-champ Joe Louis at a sports dinner Wednesday night.

"Mr. Louis," she said, "I'm Mrs. Jack Dempsey. My daughter would be very pleased to have your autograph."

Louis bent down and signed his name.

Mickey Mantle slugged .560 for the Yankees during the 1960 American League campaign.

Ohio U. Drops From Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., is the new leader of the small college top ten as determined by the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Carolina Bears, who have won their five games this season by an average 24-6 score, replace Ohio University at the top. The Ohioans slid down after winning from Xavier of Ohio by a 6-0 score while Lenoir Rhyne walloped Guilford, 21-6.

The small college top ten, an innovation this year with The Associated Press, is selected by a panel of eight football experts. Each surveys his NCAA district, weighs the ability of his prospects against those of the best in the other areas and then votes for the ten best teams.

Ohio University, which lists a 36-6 conquest of Boston University among its 1960 achievements, topped the list for the first two weeks.

Third on the current list is Tufts. The Medford, Mass., Jumbos blanked Lehigh, last week's third place team, in their meeting Saturday and shot from the honorable mention listing to that of contenders.

Others in the top ten are Iowa Teachers, Whitworth, Humboldt State, Chattanooga, Southeast Louisiana, Southern Illinois and Florida A. & M. Only one team in this elite grouping has suffered a defeat, that a 10-0 loss by Chattanooga to Auburn of the Southeastern Conference.

Braves Dominate 1960 All-Star Baseball Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves a 20-game winner for the 11th time, topped the balloting for the 1960 Associated Press major league all-star team selected today. Of the 192 baseball writers taking part in the annual poll, 188 named Spahn as the best left-handed pitcher.

The Braves dominated the voting with third baseman Eddie Mathews, outfielder Hank Aaron and catcher Del Crandall also named to the squad.

Others chosen were first baseman Bill Skowron and outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees, second baseman Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox, shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, outfielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and right-handed pitcher Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The balloting for second base honors produced the closest vote. Runnels polled 68 votes, Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox 60 and Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates 56. Another tight race was for first baseman with Skowron edging Roy Sievers of the White Sox, 65 to 53.

Mays was the second highest vote-getter with 182. Law was next with 144 and then came Maris with 132.

Disputed Gridder Gets Green Light From Ohio Group

CINCINNATI (AP)—Star tackle Steve Pruitt will be back in the lineup for Taylor High School Friday night following the Ohio High School Athletic Association's reversal of its earlier ruling declaring him ineligible.

The OHSAA had held that Pruitt, and orphan who lived in the Taylor school district with a sister, should have moved into the Harrison school district with his sister and played there.

The association announced its change of mind Wednesday, saying the new decision was based on Pruitt's being made a ward of the Hamilton County Juvenile Court.

The court had claimed Pruitt could play at Taylor, but the athlete remained on the bench at his own request so far this season for fear the OHSAA would forfeit any game in which he played.

Youngstown Man Reported Buying Track At Randall

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today it has learned that Randall Park race track here soon will be sold for $4.2 million to Edward J. DeBartolo of Youngstown, new owner of the ThistleDown track and the Cranwood franchise.

The newspaper said that following a meeting of the Randall owners in Pittsburgh Wednesday night a spokesman for the group said it was "'virtually a sure thing" that DeBartolo would take over the track shortly.

The 14 Pennsylvanians who own Randall Park bought it from Saul Silberman in 1956 for $3.6 million.

Bids for the track also have been received from E. E. (Dale) Shaffer, president of the Michigan Racing Association, and the owners of the Atlantic City Racing Association, the Plain Dealer said.

DeBartolo is an industrial development tycoon and builder of numerous shopping centers.

Yankees Are Set To Announce Houk As New Manager

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Today the Yankees will name a new manager. He will be 41-year-old Ralph Houk.

But never to be forgotten will be the old Yankee manager, Casey Stengel, the old man the Yankees dismissed to make room for the younger man in line with the club's new policy — the youth movement.

"The youth movement of America is for kids," blared old man Stengel in an acceptance speech Wednesday night climaxing an emotional evening during which he was given a farewell dinner party by the New York Baseball Writers.

"Sure I'm old," 70-year-old Stengel challenged an audience that included Yankee owner Dan Topping, 48, the man who fired him; George Weiss, 65, the general manager who will be the next man to be forfeited under the new "youth program" policy of the owners; and Roy Harney, 58, who is slated to succeed Weiss, and Branch Rickey, 79, president of the dormant Continental League.

"But I thought I could build a young team. I thought I could advance skill and youth without waiting years. Don't forget it was I who started the Yankee youth program which saved the club three-four years by instructional schools in the winter. I got the youths to play baseball instead of ice skating in the winter."

All this, of course, was a pointed reference to the reason given by the Yankee ownership for his dismissal Tuesday — that Casey was too old to continue as manager.

Looking directly at Topping, Stengel said: "This is not a ridicule of Topping who has the nerve and the guts to be here tonight."

Earlier Topping, obviously tense and nervous had been among the dozens of persons—baseball officials including Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Joe Cronin, writers and friends who had paid tribute to the most successful manager in baseball.

"After reading today's press," Topping said slowly, "maybe I should shut up; maybe I've said enough. I feel a little like Khrushchev when he spoke before the United Nations.

"This has been the toughest decision (firing Stengel) the Yankees have had to make in all my years with the organization."

CASEY STENGEL, who was dismissed as Yankee manager Tuesday, holds a medallion and well-wishers' telegrams at farewell dinner staged in his honor by the New York baseball writers Wednesday at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. The man who is "too old" to run the Yankees had tears in his eyes as one after another of the baseball greats and "just newspaper pals" honored him. (UPI Telephoto)

Bernie Allen Added To List Of Possible All-Americans

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Has the quarterback option play stolen the football spotlight from the game's one-time glamour boy, the halfback?

As far as the Midwest is concerned, it apparently has. The area's top candidates for All-America, today's check of The Associated Press' regional selection board disclosed, are mainly quarterbacks.

The list is headed by Iowa's Wilburn Hollis, AP back of the week. Other quarterbacks prancing in the eye-catching role once held by fleet halfbacks include Purdue's Bernie Allen, Wisconsin's Ron Miller, Ohio State's Tom Matte, Minnesota's Sandy Stephens and Northwestern's Dick Thornton.

In the various versions of the T-formation, the quarterback is the offensive kingpin. This was dramatically underscored at Iowa City Saturday when Iowa, now the No. 1 team in The Associated Press national poll, was led by Hollis to a last-minute 20-21 triumph over Wisconsin.

Observed All - America board member Oliver Kuechle of the Milwaukee Journal: "One man above all others stood out in Iowa's victory over Wisconsin—200 pound, 6-2 quarterback Wilburn Hollis. It was he who scored two of Iowa's touchdowns on runs of 31 and 9 yards; he who passed 34 yards for the winning touchdown; and he who led all ball carriers with 77 yards on 19 carries. With only an average quarterback, Iowa for all its fine speed would have been whipped."

In the same game, Wisconsin's Miller almost engineered a 21-21 tie and board member Bill Jauss of the Chicago Daily News commented that "Miller throws well enough for the pros right now."

At Purdue last Saturday, quarterback Allen, an East Liverpool, Ohio, product, was mainly instrumental in the Boilermakers' 24-21 upset of Ohio State. Commented board member Paul Horning of the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch:

"Allen did everything but drive the bus to the stadium. He did an excellent job of quarterbacking; all the passing and punting; kicked three extra points and the 33-yard field goal which was the margin of victory. He also ran effectively in the fourth period when Purdue's successful ball control kept Ohio State from striking back."

The quarterbacks, however, haven't swiped the thunder from linemen—especially tackle Jerry Beabout of Purdue and guard Tom Brown of Minnesota.

Bill Fox of the Indianapolis News said the 222-pound Beabout, from Mansfield, Ohio, distinguished himself against Ohio State "both on offense and defense." Board member Hornung said films showed Beabout "consistently led the charge which neutralized Ohio's 1-2 punch of fullback Bob Ferguson and quarterback Tom Matte."

Bert Bertine of the Champaign-Urbana (Ill.) Courier extolled Minnesota's 243-pound Brown as a "whale of a middle guard who rolls over offensive centers."

Youngstown Man Reported Buying Track At Randall

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today it has learned that Randall Park race track here soon will be sold for $4.2 million to Edward J. DeBartolo of Youngstown, new owner of the ThistleDown track and the Cranwood franchise.

The newspaper said that following a meeting of the Randall owners in Pittsburgh Wednesday night a spokesman for the group said it was "virtually a sure thing" that DeBartolo would take over the track shortly.

The 14 Pennsylvanians who own Randall Park bought it from Saul Silberman in 1958 for $3.6 million.

Bids for the track also have been received from E. E. (Dale) Shaffer, president of the Michigan Racing Association, and the owners of the Atlantic City Racing Association, the Plain Dealer said.

DeBartolo is an industrial development tycoon and builder of numerous shopping centers.

Bill Hartack led the riders at the Atlantic City racetrack for the second straight year. He rode 46 winners there last summer.

McComas Scores Twice In East Jr.'s 3rd Win

East Junior High inaugurated its new field with a 20-6 victory over Toronto Wednesday afternoon.

Quarterback Frank McComas paced Coach Dom Cascio's team to its third win in four games by scoring twice on runs of 25 and 9 yards.

McComas and Bob Mercer added two first period touchdowns which sent the Panthers on their way. Mercer ran 33 yards for his TD.

The longest touchdown run of the contest was turned in by Rick Jennings. Jennings, standing on his own 33-yard line, took the second half kickoff and raced back 67 yards for the TD.

Toronto finally smashed through East Junior's tough defensive line to score its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The game, played in a steady downpour, marked the first contest on the new football field located directly behind East Junior High School.

East will entertain Salem next Wednesday.

Mrs. Dempsey Gets Joe Louis' Autograph

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of another former heavyweight champion walked up to ex-champ Joe Louis at a sports dinner Wednesday night.

"Mr. Louis," she said, "I'm Mrs. Jack Dempsey. My daughter would be very pleased to have your autograph."

Louis bent down and signed his name.

Mickey Mantle slugged 226 for the Yankees during the 1959 American League campaign.

Ohio U. Drops From Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., is the new leader of the small college top ten as determined by the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Carolina Bears, who have won their five games this season by an average 24-6 score, replace Ohio University at the top. The Ohioans slid down after winning from Xavier of Ohio by a 6-0 score while Lenoir Rhyne walloped Guilford, 21-6.

The small college top ten, an innovation this year with The Associated Press, is selected by a panel of eight football experts. Each surveys his NCAA district, weighs the ability of his prospects against those of the best in the other areas and then votes for the ten best teams.

Ohio University, which lists a 28-6 conquest of Boston University among its 1959 achievements, topped the list for the first two weeks.

Third on the current list is Tufts. The Medford, Mass., Jumbos blanked Lehigh, last week's third place team, in their meeting Saturday and shot from the honorable mention listing to that of contenders.

Others in the top ten are Iowa Teachers, Whitworth, Humboldt State, Chattanooga, Southeast Louisiana, Southern Illinois and Florida A. & M. Only one team in this elite grouping has suffered a defeat, that a 10-0 loss by Chattanooga to Auburn of the Southeastern Conference.

Olympic Star Is Top Goalie

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers goalie Jack McCartan, who gained the plaudits of the nation in leading the champion U.S. Olympic hockey team last winter, is showing the same form that had this town raving about his performances in four tryout games at the close of last season with the Rangers.

He shut out the previously undefeated Chicago Black Hawks 2-0 Wednesday night and is the choice of Rangers Coach Alf Pike's to face the National Hockey league-leading Montreal Canadiens here Sunday. Montreal lost to Toronto 3-1 in the only other NHL game Wednesday night.

"I didn't have many tough shots to handle," said the St. Paul, Minn., native, who turned aside 19 drives. "That team of ours played real well in front of me and really made things easy."

His most unexpected trouble came from a gash under his chin that required five stitches to close. The wound was inflicted during a melee—involving a host of Rangers and Chicago's rookie Reggie Fleming. Fleming was finally ousted after fighting with Eddie Shack and John Hanna.

Worrisome Injuries Mar OSU Grid Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Worrisome injuries popped up to mar Wednesday's Ohio State football practice.

Guard Don Young reinjured a tender ankle and Ron Houck, defensive back, suffered a hurt neck muscle. Effect of Young's injury is questionable but Houck's is not expected to keep him from playing against Wisconsin Saturday.

Bill Hess is the probable replacement for Bill German, another defensive back, who is still limping from a knee injury suffered last week in the game with Purdue.

Coach Woody Hayes, did find bright spots in the day's work. He commented that quarterback Tom Matte and fullback Bob Ferguson, his big 1-2 punch, were running as well as they ever have.

Sports Banquet Set

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — More than 100 athletes, including Wilma Rudolph of Tennessee State, triple gold medal winner in this year's Olympics, will participate in the third annual Youngstown Curbstone Coaches Hall of Fame-Heart Fund banquet here Sunday night. Humorist Tom Richardson will be the main speaker and Jimmy Dudley, Cleveland Indians broadcaster, will be master of ceremonies.

Joe Adcock, veteran first baseman, led the Milwaukee Braves in batting with a .298 mark during the past season.

Archie Moore In Politics

By TED MCKENNA

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore is taking to politics as he takes to prize fighting—in a relaxed manner.

Moore, a registered Democrat, is running for a two-month term as a state assemblyman in the Nov. 8 election, but he has no speaking engagements.

In fact, he left for Italy Wednesday to prepare for a 10-round, nontitle fight with Julio Ranildo, Italian light heavyweight champion, in Rome Oct. 29.

Moore's political campaign will sort of take care of itself—with the help of other Democratic candidates—he figures.

Archie is running against another Democrat, George J. Lapthorne, San Diego real estate man, for the short term left vacant when George C. Crawford resigned to become a judge. Lapthorne has been a frequent unsuccessful candidate for public office.

The office Archie seeks will be largely an honorary one. The legislature will not meet during his two months in office from November to January. He will receive two months pay at $500 a month if he is elected.

Archie said in an interview he thought he had a good chance of winning. He added that if things go well for him in the election he might run for a full term in the assembly.

"I know many of the problems in my district and I will do the best I can," Archie said. "I will be a fighting assemblyman."

Barons Wallop Bears, Tied For 2nd Place

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Barons moved into a tie for second place with the Quebec Aces in the American Hockey League Wednesday night when they walloped the Hershey Bears 6-3. The Barons and Aces each have eight points, only two behind first place Springfield.

Captain Freddie Glover, the league's leading scorer, led the attack that sent Hershey down to its third straight defeat. He scored two of the six Cleveland goals. The Barons took a 4-0 lead, then coasted.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Oscar Gets 21, West Nets 20 In Pro Debuts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf sums up the "new look" Cincinnati Royals' record victory this way:

"Rebounding did it."

He referred specificially to the first half of the Wednesday night's National Basketball Association season opener, when the Royals grabbed 47 rebounds to 25 for the Los Angeles Lakers, and raced to a 140-123 victory.

Three-time All-America Oscar Robertson lived up to expectations in his pro basketball debut, scoring 21 points. He also was largely responsible for the Royals' improved rebounding. He grabbed 12 from his guard position, leading everybody but the Lakers' Elgin Baylor with 17, and contributed 10 assists.

The Lakers' Jerry West snapped back after a poor first-half showing and netted 16 points in the second half for a 20-point total in his pro debut. He was All-America at West Virginia.

The Royals are looking forward to a better season than their last two, when they finished last.

"Rebounding is all we need," Wolf said. "If we can get the ball we can score. They know what to do with the ball."

"They" meant players like captain Jack Twyman, last year's second-highest NBA scorer, who Wednesday night paced his team with 30 points, hitting 11 of 18 field goal attempts.

And Robertson, who delighted the record crowd of 8,176 fans at the Cincinnati Garden.

Highest previous crowd the Royals had drawn there was 7,853 against St. Louis, Dec. 30, 1958.

Royals rookie Bob Boozer, who was teamed with Robertson and West on the U. S. Olympic squad last summer, notched eight points.

The Royals' 140 points were two higher than they had ever scored.

It was the pro debut also of coaches Wolf, who was at Villa Madonna College last year, and of the Lakers' Fred Schaus.

The Royals move today to New York for games tonight and Saturday with the Knickerbockers.

And their fans are looking forward to a better season than their last two, when they finished dead last.

Captain Twyman says, "This is our year. It has to be. We've waited a long time for it. And this was certainly an opening game to be proud of."

Wisconsin Sophomore Leads Big 10 Offense

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Miller, Wisconsin's sophomore quarterback, is this week's total offense leader in Big Ten football with a gain of 384 yards in two conference games.

Miller has picked up 56 yards rushing and 328 in the air in averaging six yards a play, official statistics showed today.

Wilburn Hollis of Iowa's top-ranked team is second on total offense with 355 yards, followed by Ohio State's Tom Matte with 330.

Matte is the passing leader based on completion percentage with 10 hits in 16 tosses for 178 yards. Miller, however, has the most yardage, 328, with 23 strikes in 43 tosses.

Two quarterbacks, Hollis and Matte, are one-two in rushing. Hollis has netted 227 yards in 46 carries for a 4.9 average and Matte has scooted 152 in 29 for 5.2. Halfback Larry Ferguson of Iowa is third and Bob Ferguson, Ohio State fullback, fourth.

The best rushing average is by Michigan State's Carl Charon who is 7.4 in 19 carries. His teammate, Gary Ballman, is 7.1 in 15.

Other leaders include: Pass receiving—Hugh Richter, Wisconsin, 9 for 125 yards; punting — Jim Bakken, Wisconsin, 9 for a 42.6 average; punt returns—Bill Bess, Wisconsin, 4 for 10.8; kickoff returns—Gerry Mauren, Iowa, 4 for 24.5; interceptions—Bill Munsey, Minnesota, 2 for 52; scoring—Hollis, 5 TDs for 30 points.

Ohio State remained the team leader on offense, gaining an average of 324 yards in two games, making 15½ first downs and scoring 27½ points a game.

2 Ex-Champs Remain In Seniors Golf Play

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—The quarterfinals of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament are being played today with two running.

Thomas Robbins of Pinehurst, 1956 champion, won his second match Wednesday, ousting Loyal Safford of Randolph, Mass., 3 and 2. J. Wolcott Brown of Sea Girt, N. J., who won two years ago, whipped Allen Rankin of Columbus, Ohio, 2 and 1.

Meanwhile, both co-medalists in Monday's qualifying are on the sidelines. Last to go was James Kirkpatrick of Manchester, Conn., whose late rally Wednesday was choked on the 18th hole by L.W. Ramsey, 56, of New Castle, Ind., for a 2-up victory.

Browns Count On Defensive Backs Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' hopes for a second victory over the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday rest a good part on the success or failure of defensive backs Bernie Parrish and Don Fleming.

The two former University of Florida stars intercepted three of Norm Van Brocklin's passes in the first quarter of the season opener at Philadelphia Sept. 25 and two of those breaks resulted in Cleveland touchdowns. The Browns went on to a 41-24 victory.

Parrish and Fleming were busy Wednesday night looking at movies of Van Brocklin's passing and the moves of such Philadelphia receivers as Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Walston.

Although Van Brocklin found the Browns' left side rather rugged a month ago, he undoubtedly will be trying again Sunday afternoon. His most dangerous receiver is McDonald, who runs from the right making him the responsibility of Parrish and Fleming most of the time.

Following the Browns' workout in the rain at League Park Wednesday, Coach Paul Brown expressed concern about the overall physical condition of the squad.

"We're pretty battered and we can't afford to be in substandard shape for the Eagles," he said. "I don't think the injuries came from any letdown in Dallas, just the run of luck."

Ray Renfro, flanking back, who suffered strained knee ligaments in the Dallas game Sunday, watched most of the practice before going to the training room for further treatment of his knee. He is walking without much difficulty, but won't try running until later in the week.

Ross Fichtner, rookie defensive back from Purdue, was used as a flanker in the workout and showed that he is adept at catching passes.

"Ross is our third quarterback and this gives him a rounded idea of the offense," Coach Brown explained.

Olympic Star Is Top Goalie

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers goalie Jack McCartan, who gained the plaudits of the nation in leading the champion U.S. Olympic hockey team last winter, is showing the same form that had this town raving about his performances in four tryout games at the close of last season with the Rangers.

He shut out the previously undefeated Chicago Black Hawks 2-0 Wednesday night and is the choice of Rangers Coach Alf Pike's to face the National Hockey league-leading Montreal Canadiens here Sunday. Montreal lost to Toronto 3-1 in the only other NHL game Wednesday night.

"I didn't have many tough shots to handle," said the St. Paul, Minn., native, who turned aside 19 drives. "That team of ours played real well in front of me and really made things easy."

His most unexpected trouble came from a gash under his chin that required five stitches to close. The wound was inflicted during a melee—involving a host of Rangers and Chicago's rookie Reggie Fleming. Fleming was finally ousted after fighting with Eddie Shack and John Hanna.

Archie Moore In Politics

By TED MCKENNA

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore is taking to politics as he takes to prize fighting—in a relaxed manner.

Moore, a registered Democrat, is running for a two-month term as a state assemblyman in the Nov. 8 election, but he has no speaking engagements.

In fact, he left for Raly Wednesday to prepare for a 10-round, nontitle fight with Julio Ranildo, Italian light heavyweight champion, in Rome Oct. 29.

Moore's political campaign will sort of take care of itself—with the help of other Democratic candidates—he figures.

Archie is running against another Democrat, George J. Lapthorne, San Diego real estate man, for the short term left vacant when George C. Crawford resigned to become a judge. Lapthorne has been a frequent unsuccessful candidate for public office.

The office Archie seeks will be largely an honorary one. The legislature will not meet during his two months in office from November to January. He will receive two months pay at $500 a month if he is elected.

Archie said in an interview he thought he had a good chance of winning. He added that if things go well for him in the election he might run for a full term in the assembly.

"I know many of the problems in my district and I will do the best I can," Archie said. "I will be a fighting assemblyman."

Worrisome Injuries Mar OSU Grid Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Worrisome injuries popped up to mar Wednesday's Ohio State football practice.

Guard Don Young reinjured a tender ankle and Ron Houck, defensive back, suffered a hurt neck muscle. Effect of Young's injury is questionable but Houck's is not expected to keep him from playing against Wisconsin Saturday.

Bill Hess is the probable replacement for Bill Gorman, another defensive back, who is still limping from a knee injury suffered last week in the game with Purdue.

Coach Woody Hayes, did find bright spots in the day's work. He commented that quarterback Tom Matte and fullback Bob Ferguson, his big 1-2 punch, were running as well as they ever have.

Sports Banquet Set

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — More than 100 athletes, including Wilma Rudolph of Tennessee State, triple gold medal winner in this year's Olympics, will participate in the third annual Youngstown Curbstone Coaches Hall of Fame-Heart Fund banquet here Sunday night. Humorist Tom Richardson will be the main speaker and Jimmy Dudley, Cleveland Indians broadcaster, will be master of ceremonies.

Joe Adcock, veteran first baseman, led the Milwaukee Braves in batting with a .308 mark during the past season.

Barons Wallop Bears, Tied For 2nd Place

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Barons moved into a tie for second place with the Quebec Aces in the American Hockey League Wednesday night when they walloped the Hershey Bears 6-3. The Barons and Aces each have eight points, only two behind first place Springfield.

Captain Freddie Glover, the league's leading scorer, led the attack that sent Hershey down to its third straight defeat. He scored two of the six Cleveland goals. The Barons took a 4-0 lead, then coasted.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Oscar Gets 21, West Nets 20 In Pro Debuts

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf sums up the "new look" Cincinnati Royals' record victory this way:

"Rebounding did it."

He referred specificially to the first half of the Wednesday night's National Basketball Association season opener, when the Royals grabbed 47 rebounds to 25 for the Los Angeles Lakers, and raced to a 140-123 victory.

Three-time All-America Oscar Robertson lived up to expectations in his pro basketball debut, scoring 21 points. He also was largely responsible for the Royals' improved rebounding. He grabbed 12 from his guard position, leading everybody but the Lakers' Elgin Baylor with 17, and contributed 10 assists.

The Lakers' Jerry West snapped back after a poor first-half showing and netted 16 points in the second half for a 20-point total in his pro debut. He was All-America at West Virginia.

The Royals are looking forward to a better season than their last two, when they finished last.

"Rebounding is all we need," Wolf said. "If we can get the ball we can score. They know what to do with the ball."

"They" meant players like captain Jack Twyman, last year's second-highest NBA scorer, who Wednesday night paced his team with 30 points, hitting 11 of 18 field goal attempts.

And Robertson, who delighted the record crowd of 8,176 fans at the Cincinnati Garden.

Highest previous crowd the Royals had drawn there was 7,853 against St. Louis, Dec. 30, 1958.

Royals rookie Bob Boozer, who was teamed with Robertson and West on the U. S. Olympic squad last summer, notched eight points.

The Royals' 140 points were two higher than they had ever scored.

It was the pro debut also of coaches Wolf, who was at Villa Madonna College last year, and of the Lakers' Fred Schaus.

The Royals move today to New York for games tonight and Saturday with the Knickerbockers.

And their fans are looking forward to a better season than their last two, when they finished dead last.

Captain Twyman says, "This is our year. It has to be. We've waited a long time for it. And this was certainly an opening game to be proud of."

Wisconsin Sophomore Leads Big 10 Offense

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Miller, Wisconsin's sophomore quarterback, is this week's total offense leader in Big Ten football with a gain of 384 yards in two conference games.

Miller has picked up 56 yards rushing and 328 in the air in averaging six yards a play, official statistics showed today.

Wilburn Hollis of Iowa's top-ranked team is second on total offense with 355 yards, followed by Ohio State's Tom Matte with 330.

Matte is the passing leader based on completion percentage with 10 hits in 16 tosses for 178 yards. Miller, however, has the most yardage, 328, with 23 strikes in 43 tosses.

Two quarterbacks, Hollis and Matte, are one-two in rushing. Hollis has netted 227 yards in 46 carries for a 4.9 average and Matte has scooted 152 in 29 for 5.2. Halfback Larry Ferguson of Iowa is third and Bob Ferguson, Ohio State fullback, fourth.

The best rushing average is by Michigan State's Carl Charon who is 7.4 in 19 carries. His teammate, Gary Ballman, is 7.1 in 15.

Other leaders include: Pass receiving—Hugh Richter, Wisconsin, 9 for 125 yards; punting — Jim Bakken, Wisconsin, 9 for a 42.6 average; punt returns—Bill Bess, Wisconsin, 4 for 10.8; kickoff returns—Gerry Mauren, Iowa, 4 for 24.5; interceptions—Bill Munsey, Minnesota, 2 for 52; scoring—Hollis, 5 TDs for 30 points.

Ohio State remained the team leader on offense, gaining an average of 324 yards in two games, making 15½ first downs and scoring 27½ points a game.

2 Ex-Champs Remain In Seniors Golf Play

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—The quarterfinals of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament are being played today with two running.

Thomas Robbins of Pinehurst, 1956 champion, won his second match Wednesday, ousting Loyal Safford of Randolph, Mass., 3 and 2. J. Wolcott Brown of Sea Girt, N. J., who won two years ago, whipped Allen Rankin of Columbus, Ohio, 2 and 1.

Meanwhile, both co-medalists in Monday's qualifying are on the sidelines. Last to go was James Kirkpatrick of Manchester, Conn., whose late rally Wednesday was choked on the 18th hole by L.W. Ramsey, 56, of New Castle, Ind., for a 2-up victory.

Browns Count On Defensive Backs Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' hopes for a second victory over the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday rest a good part on the success or failure of defensive backs Bernie Parrish and Don Fleming.

The two former University of Florida stars intercepted three of Norm Van Brocklin's passes in the first quarter of the season opener at Philadelphia Sept. 25 and two of those breaks resulted in Cleveland touchdowns. The Browns went on to a 41-24 victory.

Parrish and Fleming were busy Wednesday night looking at movies of Van Brocklin's passing and the moves of such Philadelphia receivers as Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Walston.

Although Van Brocklin found the Browns' left side rather rugged a month ago, he undoubtedly will be trying again Sunday afternoon. His most dangerous receiver is McDonald, who runs from the right making him the responsibility of Parrish and Fleming most of the time.

Following the Browns' workout in the rain at League Park Wednesday, Coach Paul Brown expressed concern about the overall physical condition of the squad.

"We're pretty battered and we can't afford to be in substandard shape for the Eagles," he said. "I don't think the injuries came from any letdown in Dallas, just the run of luck."

Ray Renfro, flanking back, who suffered strained knee ligaments in the Dallas game Sunday, watched most of the practice before going to the training room for further treatment of his knee. He is walking without much difficulty, but won't try running until later in the week.

Ross Fichtner, rookie defensive back from Purdue, was used as a flanker in the workout and showed that he is adept at catching passes.

"Ross is our third quarterback and this gives him a rounded idea of the offense," Coach Brown explained.

A 'Look' At The Presidential Nominees

Not the least remarkable of recent television achievements is the national preoccupation with the outward appearances of the presidential candidates.

Marie Torre

"Do you think Kennedy has pancake makeup around the eyes?" asked a viewing companion while the Democratic nominee was trying to explain his stand on Quemoy and Matsu during the last TV debate. "Nixon's never looked better," volunteered another viewer in the audience.

In this 1960 presidential campaign, we've heard much about Sen. Kennedy's "haircut" and about Vice President Nixon's use of TV cosmetics, and now we're told that there is such a thing as a typical "presidential face."

WHICH ONE'S got it? No way of foretelling the outcome of the elections by this. Both Nixon and Kennedy have the typical "presidential face," circa 1960.

This, at least, is the educated opinion of NBC's top makeup man, Bob O'Bradovich, who knows so much about how American presidents really looked that his efforts were once described by historian Bruce Catton as "starling transformation of top acting talent into living historical characterizations."

Working from old portraits and often obscure reports on presidential physiognomies, O'Bradovich has transformed such distinguished actors as Ralph Bellamy, James Whitmore and Burgess Meredith into reincarnations of Washington, Jefferson, Adams (John), Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, etc.

-:-

"THE FACES of Nixon and Kennedy," says authority O'Bradovich, "rate almost second to none in the history of American presidential politics. Ruddy complexions . . . full and well-cropped hair . . . prominent noses and cheekbones, stoic jaw lines, clear eyes and engaging smiles.

"These are the on-camera attributes of Nixon and Kennedy, and this is why neither man is a loser on appearance alone."

Few American presidents, says O'Bradovich, have been as gifted with "good looks" as are the current presidential hopefuls. He detects a "probably coincidental" run of physically attractive presidents beginning with the advent of still and motion picture camera photography and continuing into the present era of television.

"DO YOU KNOW," O'Bradovich continued, "that if George Washington were a candidate for public office today, his face would be a TV makeup man's nightmare? His face was scarred, full of pocks and moles.

"James Madison weighed less than 100 pounds, was only 5 feet, 4 inches tall — the shortest and slightest of American presidents.

"William Howard Taft, who packed 335 pounds into a 6-foot frame, was frankly obese. Thomas Jefferson had large hands and feet which were completely out of proportion to the rest of his body . . ."

The point of O'Bradovich's thesis is that, in this electronic age of television, the mien of a would-be White House tenant is almost as important as his qualifications. Which figures! Aren't beauty contests big in America?

FIRST of the season's new programs to win a sponsor-network renewal is Hubbell Robinson's "Thriller," which has garned enough rating points to warrant a full season's run. . . .

On Oct. 31, Jack Paar's talking panel will include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who is expected to discuss the duties of the future first lady, giving advice from her more than 12 years in that White House role . . .

Westerns must be running out of ideas. The Nov. 9 "Wanted — Dead or Alive" will be based on Aristophanes' "Lysistrata." . . .

Milton Berle, a truant comedian this season, leaves the TV bowling alleys the night of Oct. 30 for an appearance on "The Jack Benny Show." . . .

The U.S. Department of Public Health will open its files to producer Howard Erskine and writer Larry Marks for a half-hour suspense series called "Medical Detectives." The program will be presented under the Goodson-Todman Productions banner. . . .

The Television Code Review Board has "spiked" a commercial for a nonalcoholic cocktail mix on the theory that its presentation would "induce" the use of hard liquor.

Knowles, Laughlin Assigned 'Center Stage' At Ware Show

New lines of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. and the Homer Laughlin China Co. will have a "center stage" position at the annual Atlantic City China and Glass Show Jan. 8-13.

As a result of a $3 million remodeling project in Convention Hall, where the show is held, Knowles and Laughlin's have been assigned exhibit space on the stage area on the Boardwalk level of the huge building. All other major area potteries are expected to show their new lines.

The stage space has been reconstructed and expanded, complete with a new setting that will serve as a focal point for the entire auditorium. Grillwork and streamers, combined with oval showcase windows, will provide an unusual setting for the 1961 lines of dinnerware.

Two glass firms, Fostoria and West Virginia Glass, will share the major stage area with the two district potteries.

Convention Hall's remodeling amounted to a gigantic face-lifting, including many interior improvements. It includes a new escalator system and redesigned main lobby.

The Atlantic City Convention Bureau will handle room reservations for exhibitors and buyers at hotels and motels throughout the city. Improved transportation has been arranged, including special limousine service from Philadelphia International Airport and mid-town New York direct to Atlantic City hotels.

"Early bird" registration of buyers will begin Jan. 7 at the Haddon Hall Hotel, Shelburne Hotel and the lobby of Convention Hall.

The ware exhibit will operate Jan. 8 from noon to 6 p. m. The hours Jan. 9-12, inclusive, will be 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. On the closing day, Jan 13, it will operate from 9 a. m. to noon.

Band Mothers Plan Project Of Soundproofing 2 Rooms

Plans were completed to soundproof two rooms of the band room in the Memorial Auditorium for practice sessions at a meeting of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers Tuesday night. Mrs. Richard Curren, president, presided.

Rowland Kaufman, a member of the Kiwanis Club, told of the travel and adventure series lectures being held four Saturday nights at the Westgate School starting Oct. 29.

Mrs. Doris Locke, program chairman, who also led devotions, introduced the speaker and also Mrs. Nelson Wright and daughters, Janie and Peg, who sang two selections, "There Was a Crooked Man" and "May Day Carol."

Vincent Maola, supervisor of instrumental music, told of the many compliments the band is receiving from the public for the half-time performances at the football games.

He said band members are purchasing a tape recorder with two speakers to be used in the band rooms. The members raised the money by the sale of concert tickets.

Mrs. Chester Brown, ways and means chairman, announced that $220 was realized from the recent rummage sale. The group is selling candy as another fund project, and a mock bake sale is set for November.

Refreshments were served 40 by the social committee headed by Mrs. Clifford Conley.

Father's Night will be observed at the meeting Nov. 15.

Mitchell Stresses Private Sector Of Economy In Talk

CLEVELAND (AP)—To maintain this nation's strength and world position, the private sector of its economy must take greater responsibility for the public interest, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said here Wednesday night.

The Cabinet member spoke to an audience of about 275 at a dinner of the Northern Ohio Steel Service Center Institute.

"Unlss the private sector meets the needs that are arising in great degrees—schools, hospitals, roads, better education at the college and university level," the federal government will be forced to "move in," Mitchell said.

He also stressed a need "for labor and management to communicate better with one another" and said this "cannot be done at the collective bargaining table."

"Management should learn not only to communicate with employes, but with labor unions that represent those employes—and communicate on a planned, continuous basis," Mitchell said.

Last year's steel strike, Mitchell said, was "basically an unpopular strike that became a crusade when the union leaders were able to translate management's position on work practices" into terms of management's trying to take away something the workers had had for many years.

Mitchell also referred to the 1959 steel strike in a question and answer period and gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a major share of credit for settling the long walkout.

"Without Mr. Nixon's appraisal of the consequences of no settlement, with Congress convening in a week or so," the strike might have gone on and hasty legislative remedy been invoked, Mitchell said. "Nixon convinced the steel executives that it would be wise to settle before Congress convened," he added.

"I don't think the public understands the hours that he and I together spent with company and union executives in his home nights, Sundays and Saturdays when there was no public knowledge that we were so doing.

"I think it was these discussions that brought about voluntary settlement."

A 'Look' At The Presidential Nominees

Not the least remarkable of recent television achievements is the national preoccupation with the outward appearances of the presidential candidates.

Marie Torre

"Do you think Kennedy has pancake makeup around the eyes?" asked a viewing companion while the Democratic nominee was trying to explain his stand on Quemoy and Matsu during the last TV debate. "Nixon's never looked better," volunteered another viewer in the audience.

In this 1960 presidential campaign, we've heard much about Sen. Kennedy's "haircut" and about Vice President Nixon's use of TV cosmetics, and now we're told that there is such a thing as a typical "presidential face."

WHICH ONE'S got it? No way of foretelling the outcome of the elections by this. Both Nixon and Kennedy have the typical "presidential face," circa 1960.

This, at least, is the educated opinion of NBC's top makeup man, Bob O'Bradovich, who knows so much about how American presidents really looked that his efforts were once described by historian Bruce Catton as "starling transformation of top acting talent into living historical characterizations."

Working from old portraits and often obscure reports on presidential physiognomies, O'Bradovich has transformed such distinguished actors as Ralph Bellamy, James Whitmore and Burgess Meredith into reincarnations of Washington, Jefferson, Adams (John), Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, etc.

"THE FACES of Nixon and Kennedy," says authority O'Bradovich, "rate almost second to none in the history of American presidential politics. Ruddy complexions . . . full and well-cropped hair . . . prominent noses and cheekbones, stoic jaw lines, clear eyes and engaging smiles.

"These are the on-camera attributes of Nixon and Kennedy, and this is why neither man is a loser on appearance alone."

Few American presidents, says O'Bradovich, have been as gifted with "good looks" as are the current presidential hopefuls. He detects a "probably coincidental" run of physically attractive presidents beginning with the advent of still and motion picture camera photography and continuing into the present era of television.

"DO YOU KNOW," O'Bradovich continued, "that if George Washington were a candidate for public office today, his face would be a TV makeup man's nightmare? His face was scarred, full of pocks and moles.

"James Madison weighed less than 100 pounds, was only 5 feet, 4 inches tall — the shortest and slightest of American presidents.

"William Howard Taft, who packed 335 pounds into a 6-foot frame, was frankly obese. Thomas Jefferson had large hands and feet which were completely out of proportion to the rest of his body . . ."

The point of O'Bradovich's thesis is that, in this electronic age of television, the mien of a would-be White House tenant is almost as important as his qualifications. Which figures! Aren't beauty contests big in America?

FIRST of the season's new programs to win a sponsor-network renewal is Hubbell Robinson's "Thriller," which has garned enough rating points to warrant a full season's run. . . .

On Oct. 31, Jack Paar's talking panel will include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who is expected to discuss the duties of the future first lady, giving advice from her more than 12 years in that White House role . . .

Westerns must be running out of ideas. The Nov. 9 "Wanted — Dead or Alive" will be based on Aristophanes' "Lysistrata." . . .

Milton Berle, a truant comedian this season, leaves the TV bowling alleys the night of Oct. 30 for an appearance on "The Jack Benny Show." . . .

The U.S. Department of Public Health will open its files to producer Howard Erskine and writer Larry Marks for a half-hour suspense series called "Medical Detectives." The program will be presented under the Goodson-Todman Productions banner. . . .

The Television Code Review Board has "spiked" a commercial for a nonalcoholic cocktail mix on the theory that its presentation would "induce" the use of hard liquor.

Knowles, Laughlin Assigned 'Center Stage' At Ware Show

New lines of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. and the Homer Laughlin China Co. will have a "center stage" position at the annual Atlantic City China and Glass Show Jan. 8-13.

As a result of a $3 million remodeling project in Convention Hall, where the show is held, Knowles and Laughlin's have been assigned exhibit space on the stage area on the Boardwalk level of the huge building. All other major area potteries are expected to show their new lines.

The stage space has been reconstructed and expanded, complete with a new setting that will serve as a focal point for the entire auditorium. Grillwork and streamers, combined with oval showcase windows, will provide an unusual setting for the 1961 lines of dinnerware.

Two glass firms, Fostoria and West Virginia Glass, will share the major stage area with the two district potteries.

Convention Hall's remodeling amounted to a gigantic face-lifting, including many interior improvements. It includes a new escalator system and redesigned main lobby.

The Atlantic City Convention Bureau will handle room reservations for exhibitors and buyers at hotels and motels throughout the city. Improved transportation has been arranged, including special limousine service from Philadelphia International Airport and mid-town New York direct to Atlantic City hotels.

"Early bird" registration of buyers will begin Jan. 7 at the Haddon Hall Hotel, Shelburne Hotel and the lobby of Convention Hall.

The ware exhibit will operate Jan. 8 from noon to 6 p. m. The hours Jan. 9-12, inclusive, will be 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. On the closing day, Jan 13, it will operate from 9 a. m. to noon.

Band Mothers Plan Project Of Soundproofing 2 Rooms

Plans were completed to soundproof two rooms of the band room in the Memorial Auditorium for practice sessions at a meeting of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers Tuesday night. Mrs. Richard Curren, president, presided.

Rowland Kaufman, a member of the Kiwanis Club, told of the travel and adventure series lectures being held four Saturday nights at the Westgate School starting Oct. 29.

Mrs. Doris Locke, program chairman, who also led devotions, introduced the speaker and also Mrs. Nelson Wright and daughters, Janie and Peg, who sang two selections, "There Was a Crooked Man" and "May Day Carol."

Vincent Maola, supervisor of instrumental music, told of the many compliments the band is receiving from the public for the half-time performances at the football games.

He said band members are purchasing a tape recorder with two speakers to be used in the band rooms. The members raised the money by the sale of concert tickets.

Mrs. Chester Brown, ways and means chairman, announced that $220 was realized from the recent rummage sale. The group is selling candy as another fund project, and a mock bake sale is set for November.

Refreshments were served 40 by the social committee headed by Mrs. Clifford Conley.

Father's Night will be observed at the meeting Nov. 15.

Mitchell Stresses Private Sector Of Economy In Talk

CLEVELAND (AP)—To maintain this nation's strength and world position, the private sector of its economy must take greater responsibility for the public interest, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said here Wednesday night.

The Cabinet member spoke to an audience of about 275 at a dinner of the Northern Ohio Steel Service Center Institute.

"Unless the private sector meets the needs that are arising in great degrees—schools, hospitals, roads, better education at the college and university level," the federal government will be forced to "move in," Mitchell said.

He also stressed a need "for labor and management to communicate better with one another" and said this "cannot be done at the collective bargaining table."

"Management should learn not only to communicate with employes, but with labor unions that represent those employes—and communicate on a planned, continuous basis," Mitchell said.

Last year's steel strike, Mitchell said, was "basically an unpopular strike that became a crusade when the union leaders were able to translate management's position on work practices" into terms of management's trying to take away something the workers had had for many years.

Mitchell also referred to the 1959 steel strike in a question and answer period and gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a major share of credit for settling the long walkout.

"Without Mr. Nixon's appraisal of the consequences of no settlement, with Congress convening in a week or so," the strike might have gone on and hasty legislative remedy been invoked, Mitchell said. "Nixon convinced the steel executives that it would be wise to settle before Congress convened," he added.

"I don't think the public understands the hours that he and I together spent with company and union executives in his home nights, Sundays and Saturdays when there was no public knowledge that we were so doing.

"I think it was these discussions that brought about voluntary settlement."

Sen. Young To Address Labor Council's Dinner

SEN. STEPHEN YOUNG

Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland will speak at the annual dinner of the Trades and Labor Council Saturday night at 6:30 at Beaver Local High School. About 250 are expected.

Sen. Young served four terms as Ohio congressman-at-large before he was elected to the Senate in 1958, winning the seat formerly occupied for 12 years by Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican.

A member of two subcommittees of the Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee, he has expressed increasing concern over American's slowness in space exploration and missile development. He attributes the lag to interservice rivalries and "complacency of those surrounding President Eisenhower."

He was the first to propose that an office of Space and Aeronautical Sciences be created with Cabinet rank. Sen. Lyndon Johnson has credited him with saving taxpayers $15 million in reduced appropriations for Civilian Defense.

Born on a farm near Norwalk in May 1890, he was graduated from Western Reserve University in Cleveland in 1912. He practiced in the family law firm in Norwalk for a year, then moved to Cleveland.

He was elected to two terms in the State Legislature, then became assistant prosecuting attorney for Cuyahoga County. He served both in World War I and World War II. In the last war, he saw 37 months' duty, including service with the infantry in North Africa and Italy and duty as allied military governor of an Italian province.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet will give the address of welcome. Guests will include: E. L. Wheatley, president, and all members of the Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters; Benjamin Skeens, secretary-treasurer of the West Virginia Federation of Labor; Mrs. Phyllis Givens, director of COPE women's auxiliaries for the West Virginia federation.

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver; James L. Mullen, staff director of District 20, United Steelworkers; Joseph D'Alesio, president of Steelworkers Local 1212 at Midland; Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, and James Flasco, city Democratic chairman.

The Great Scotts barbershop quartet will furnish entertainment. Invocation will be by the Rev. Theodore Nusser Jr., pastor of the Pine Grove Methodist Church near Hammondsville. The benediction will be given by Fr. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Program chairman is Richard P. Winters, business representative of the Akron Retail Clerks Council.

A mock Presidential election gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge 461 votes and Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson 392.

The election was under the direction of the Student Council whose advisors are Mrs. Ruth Connor and Bert Dawson, deans.

3 Draw Fines In Trash Case

Two district women and a man were fined $25 and costs each Wednesday night by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine on charges they dumped trash along St. Clair Township Rds.

The defendants were identified as Mrs. Iladene McHenry of 1st Ave., Mrs. Edna Slayton of R. D. 1 and Jack Balser of M.C. Route 22. Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Slayton was accused of dumping refuse on the Bell School Rd.

Mrs. Slayton and Mrs. McHenry pleaded guilty. Balser pleaded not guilty but was convicted by the judge on the testimony of Constable John Jackson of St. Clair Township, who arrested all three.

The constable testified that in the refuse Balser was accused of dumping he found papers with the defendant's name, along with an auto license plate issued to Balser for 1959.

Jackson cited the three several weeks ago, but hearings were delayed because the judge was on vacation. The constable said a fourth defendant failed to appear last night on a similar charge and a warrant will be issued for her arrest.

Jackson warned that the township's crackdown is continuing in efforts to break up a recent outbreak of trash dumping. He said rural roads are patrolled regularly in an effort to nab the litterbugs.

Defendant Posts Bond In Knife-Wielding Case

A 32-year-old woman charged with assault with a deadly weapon as the aftermath of a fight early Wednesday in a Dresden Ave. tavern posted $1,000 bond yesterday to win release from jail pending a Municipal Court hearing next Wednesday.

Miss Thelma Hayes, 233 W. 9th St., was charged in connection with knife wounds suffered by Mrs. Helen Webster, 38, of 403 Harrison St., Newell, in an incident at Roy's Bar. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted a continuance when the defendant said she required time to engage counsel.

Mrs. Webster suffered a cut on her head and another on the chin, inflicted by a butcher knife police said was wielded by Miss Hayes, a barmaid. Miss Hayes said she was defending herself after the patron, Mrs. Webster, hurled a bar stool when refused another drink. Miss Hayes suffered a laceration of the left arm, apparently on broken glass during a struggle behind the bar, police said.

GE Breaks Off Talks, Rejects Union's Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—The General Electric Co. has indefinitely broken off negotiations with the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) after rejecting a union offer of concession on the principal issue in the dispute.

A federal mediator said the union was willing to continue negotiations, and he would keep in touch with both sides in an effort to get the talks going again.

The company statement Wednesday said GE believed the only effect of continuing negotiations would be to delude its employes into a belief that the company intended to offer better terms than it had.

IUE president James B. Carey announced at a negotiating session that the union would drop its escalator clause demand for 18 months if it could retain the right to bargain further on it at the end of the period, and if the company would agree to an 18-month contract with a 3½ per cent wage increase.

The company has been demanding that the cost-of-living escalator clause be dropped in any new contract. The union has sought retention of the clause in the expired five - year contract under which wages went up or down with changes in the federal consumer price index. GE said the clause has added 10 per cent to its wage costs.

The union sought a two-year contract with a wage increase of 3½ per cent each year.

The company offered a three-year contract with an increase of 3 per cent immediately and one of 4 per cent in 18 months.

An 80-year-old area woman auto passenger was injured in one of 2 traffic mishaps on Route 30 in California Hollow Wednesday afternoon when the drivers lost control and the cars veered off the roadway.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Dorothy March, 43, of R. D. 1 lost control on a curve and her 1959 sedan struck an embankment about 2:10 p. m., a mile north of the city limits.

Auto Rams Truck As Driver's Foot Slips Off Clutch

A motorist's foot slipped off the clutch of his halted auto Wednesday about noon, causing it to lurch forward into the rear of a truck waiting at Broadway and Drury Ln., police reported.

The 1950 two-door sedan of David P. Boley, 16, of Densmore Ave., LaCroft, hit the rear of a 1953 pickup truck operated by William W. Whittenberger, 48, of 1600 Smithfield St., police said.

Boley told police he was halted behind the truck, "holding" the car in place in low gear by partially depressing the clutch instead of using the footbrake. But his left foot slipped off the clutch, causing the car to jump forward and strike the truck, he said.

The rear bumper of the truck was damaged and there was heavy damage to the front of Boley's car, officers said. The crash was timed at 11:56.

A similar collision at 3:40 p. m. yesterday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Lee St. damaged a 1958 sedan operated by George Lisk, 71, of 410 Maplewood Ave. and an auto operated by Lucy B. Smith, 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said. Lisk said his auto was halted when it was struck from the rear by the woman's car.

GE Breaks Off Talks, Rejects Union's Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—The General Electric Co. has indefinitely broken off negotiations with the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) after rejecting a union offer of concession on the principal issue in the dispute.

A federal mediator said the union was willing to continue negotiations, and he would keep in touch with both sides in an effort to get the talks going again.

The company statement Wednesday said GE believed the only effect of continuing negotiations would be to delude its employes into a belief that the company intended to offer better terms than it had.

IUE president James B. Carey announced at a negotiating session that the union would drop its escalator clause demand for 18 months if it could retain the right to bargain further on it at the end of the period, and if the company would agree to an 18-month contract with a 3½ per cent wage increase.

The company has been demanding that the cost-of-living escalator clause be dropped in any new contract. The union has sought retention of the clause in the expired five - year contract under which wages went up or down with changes in the federal consumer price index. GE said the clause has added 10 per cent to its wage costs.

The union sought a two-year contract with a wage increase of 3½ per cent each year.

The company offered a three-year contract with an increase of 3 per cent immediately and one of 4 per cent in 18 months.

Due Tax Refunds

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service office for 47 Northern Ohio counties is on the trail of 1,882 persons who have $488,185 coming to them in 1960 income tax refunds. Up until last week the Cleveland office had processed 1,235,119 refunds for a total of $115,143,286, and only 4,843 of the refund checks were returned by the post office. All but 1,882 of the returned checks made connection on subsequent mailings. Many of the persons with money still due likely will collect after reading their names in a newspaper today.

Edinburgh, Scotland is known to the natives as "Auld Reekie," named for the reek of smoke and steam in the industrial area.

Empire Grid Player Hurt

An Empire youth hurt playing football, a trucker injured at work and four small girls hurt in other mishaps were treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Edward Glasure, 14, of Market St., Empire, suffered a bruise and cut of the lip while playing with the Toronto team against East Junior High School.

Frank Gardner, 39, of East Liverpool, trucker for Commercial Motor Freight of Canton, received a finger injury while unloading cargo.

Marty Diane Johnson, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Mulberry St., was treated last night for a bruised finger suffered at play.

In a fall against a corner of a table, Cheryl Self, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Self, 1303 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a cut of the scalp.

Lora Schwartz, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz of Lisbon St. Ext., was treated for a cut of the face received at play.

Linda Douglas, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas, 719 Price St., suffered a laceration of the scalp when a door fell on her.

Man Grabs $5 Bill From Woman's Purse

Chester police continued an alert today for a heavy set man who grabbed a $5 bill from the purse of a Chester woman Wednesday afternoon at the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Charles French of Plutus Ave. reported she had gone to the church about 3 p. m. to prepare for a meeting of Brownie Troop 28 of which she is leader.

She said she encountered the stranger outside the church, and he asked where the minister was. Mrs. French told him the minister was in the nearby study, but that there was a man in the basement painting.

They both went into the building, Mrs. French setting her purse on a table. She said the man apparently took the bill and walked out.

Woman, 80, Hurt In Crash

An 80-year-old area woman auto passenger was injured in one of 2 traffic mishaps on Route 30 in California Hollow Wednesday afternoon when the drivers lost control and the cars veered off the roadway.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Dorothy March, 43, of R. D. 1 lost control on a curve and her 1959 sedan struck an embankment about 2:10 p. m., a mile north of the city limits.

A passenger, Inez Simms of Cain Heights, suffered a fractured left collarbone and possible pelvic injuries, officers said, and the car received considerable damage.

In a later mishap, Darla A. Smith, 19, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 lost control of her 1953 sedan and struck guardrails and went down an embankment about 1.3 miles north of the city limits at 3:20 p. m.

She was fined $25 and costs by County Judge Earl Spalding at East Palestine for driving with an expired license and $20 and costs for unsafe operation. Steven Smith of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, a passenger, escaped injury. The car received moderate damage.

Auto Rams Truck As Driver's Foot Slips Off Clutch

A motorist's foot slipped off the clutch of his halted auto Wednesday about noon, causing it to lurch forward into the rear of a truck waiting at Broadway and Drury Ln., police reported.

The 1950 two-door sedan of David P. Boley, 16, of Densmore Ave., LeCroft, hit the rear of a 1953 pickup truck operated by William W. Whittenberger, 48, of 1609 Smithfield St., police said.

Boley told police he was halted behind the truck, "holding" the car in place in low gear by partially depressing the clutch instead of using the footbrake. But his left foot slipped off the clutch, causing the car to jump forward and strike the truck, he said.

The rear bumper of the truck was damaged and there was heavy damage to the front of Boley's car, officers said. The crash was timed at 11:56.

A similar collision at 3:40 p. m. yesterday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Lee St. damaged a 1958 sedan operated by George Lisk, 71, of 430 Maplewood Ave. and an auto operated by Lucy B. Smith, 1502 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said. Lisk said his auto was halted when it was struck from the rear by the woman's car.

Wellsville Motorist Fined $150 In 3 Cases

A Wellsville motorist was fined a total of $150 and costs on 3 traffic violations at a hearing Wednesday before Mayor William J. Shook of Wellsville.

John D. Binegar of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $100 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident and $25 and costs each on charges of reckless operation and driving without an operator's license.

Binegar's car struck a parked auto owned by T. F. Grafton of Hammondsville early yesterday morning on Main St. between 3rd and 4th Sts. He was picked up about an hour later at 3rd and Buckeye Ave.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Play Equipment Undergoing A Change

Gone are the days of the old apple tree of farm and village homes. Its many low and sturdy limbs were good for climbing by tots and runabouts. It served this purpose long after it bore fruit and many have grown better for climbing as some of their dead branches were cut away. Young shade trees are rarely good for climbing, and climbing is certainly not good for them. Hence, having good climbing trees growing on playgrounds is not practical. While in Copenhagen last summer, I saw a huge tree of hard wood lying prone in a park. All the bark was stripped from its many limbs and the stumps of limbs, some short, others longer, had rounded edges worn still smoother by the many youngsters climbing among the branches.

I WASN'T SURE it was the same tree I saw at that place two years ago, but it certainly looked similar.

Two years ago I was impressed by the large number of children, from three to ten, perhaps 25 of them, climbing over and through the prone tree. No other equipment or activity in that park appeared so popular. And what an inexpensive plaything that was, too!

I can imagine thousands of back yards in America which might easily be provided with such a tree, dragged there by a tractor. Certainly there are many trees with numerous sturdy limbs available, such as maples and beeches. And why not put one or several such prone trees on school and public playgrounds?

For some years, leaders in playground and recreation in our country have been questioning the value of so many swings and seesaws on school and park playgrounds. These playthings, which are fairly hazardous and call for considerable supervision, hardly stimulate imagination or exercise many muscles.

ACCORDING TO the papers, Washington, D. C., is ripping out seesaws entirely and reducing the number of swings in its new playgrounds. Instead, there is "abstract climbing" equipment, firemen's poles attached to old-fashioned slides and areas marked for jacks and marble games. Perhaps they will eventually add an old hardwood tree of many branches, imitating the Copenhagen park.

According to a recent report by the Board of Education of Ney York City, new school buildings are to be less attractive.

There will be fewer windows and these will be protected by meshed screens so as to discourage vandalism, since broken and other vandalism has been costing the city schools half a million dollars a year.

When will parents begin to train their children in their early years not to be vandals?

$6,010 Disbursed By City Court For 10 Trustee Cases

Municipal Court has disbursed $6,010 to creditors in September and October in distribution of funds collected in 10 trusteeship cases in Municipal Court, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon reported today.

The amount represents mainly sums due local merchants on old accounts, the clerk explained. He said the amount disbursed "would have been much larger if our district industries had been working to capacity," as the amount paid on the trusteeships is based on 20 per cent of the debtor's net earnings.

In the trusteeship actions, the applicants pay the percentage of their earnings into court, which holds the funds until an amount representing 25 per cent of the total debt of an individual has been collected. Then the court makes a disbursement to the creditors.

While in trusteeship, the applicant is safe from wage attachments. The clerk said the court at present is administering about 85 trusteeship cases. Approximately 39 new trusteeships have been filed since March 1, but some others have been dismissed because the applicants failed to comply with a requirement to pay a percentage of their earnings into court. No payments are required when the applicant is unemployed.

Negro College Fund Reaches Third Of Goal

Letters now are being received in the mail solicitation phase of the United Negro College Fund drive, the Rev. John N. Mostoller, chairman of the East Liverpool division, announced today.

He said that approximately one-third of the local goal of $1,500 has been subscribed and urged those desiring "to lend a helping hand" to mail their checks as quickly as possible to James Reaney, division treasurer, in care of the First National Bank.

The UNCF is attempting to raise $2,250,000 across the nation to augment the budgets of the 33 private, fully-accredited member colleges enrolling more than 24,000 students.

Caesar A. Peters is co-chairman of the local campaign and Mrs. Amelia G. Adams secretary.

Thirty-eight other civic leaders are members of the sponsoring committee.

The United Negro College Fund is a federation of independent colleges and universities joined together to seek financial support through a single, nationwide appeal. Founded by the colleges themselves, UNCF was chartered in 1944 as a permanent organization to provide better opportunities for topflight higher education for Negro youth.

University Status Is Proposed For Marshall College

CHARLESTON (AP) — Marshall College will be called Marshall University if the 1961 Legislature goes along with a State Board of Education recommendation.

Several board members, at a meeting here yesterday, said that Marshall, with more than 3,000 full time students, already has achieved a "university type" with its several colleges and graduate courses.

The board said it was accepting a recommendation by Marshall President Stewart H. Smith that the name be changed.

The board adopted a resolution asking that the 1961 legislature consider changing the name to Marshall University. Board President Lacy I. Rice of Martinsburg, who earlier was against the board making a university status recommendation, said he had no objection to the resolution as it finally was passed.

Hearing Set Nov. 4 For Pair In Holdup

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A hearing has been scheduled Nov. 4 for two men accused of the $18,378 holdup of the Cornersburg branch of the Mahoning National Bank last July 11. FBI agents Wednesday arrested Frank D. Anzur, 33, of Youngstown and Thomas E. Georgalas, 25, of Warren at their homes.

U. S. Commissioner Henry Robinson, who set the hearing date, set bond for Anzur at $75,000 and for Georgalas at $50,000. The FBI said the pair would be questioned about bank holdups last year at Canton, Akron and Wooster.

Ohioville Republicans Plan Meeting Friday

Mrs. Sam McKinney said registered Republicans of Ohioville Borough (Ohio Township), interested in membership in the Republican Club, should attend a final organization meeting Friday at 8 p. m. in the Borough Building.

Mrs. McKinney, new secretary-treasurer, also announced that at a recent meeting club officers and Second Ward captains were named. Earl Scheel was elected chairman, Mrs. Richard Graham, vice chairman, and Mrs. McKinney, secretary-treasurer.

Second Ward captains are Mrs. Paul Dawson, Glenn Evans and Mrs. Ruth Gifford.

Wellsville Will Hold Public School Airing

A public discussion on problems of the Wellsville school district will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the high school cafeteria.

The session is a prelude to the State House Conference on Education Jan. 26 at Columbus.

Donald L. Stoll, chairman, said the meeting is open to all residents of the district.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Play Equipment Undergoing A Change

Gone are the days of the old apple tree of farm and village homes. Its many low and sturdy limbs were good for climbing by tots and run-abouts. It served this purpose long after it bore fruit and many have grown better for climbing as some of their dead branches were cut away. Young shade trees are rarely good for climbing, and climbing is certainly not good for them. Hence, having good climbing trees growing on playgrounds is not practical. While in Copenhagen last summer, I saw a huge tree of hard wood lying prone in a park. All the bark was stripped from its many limbs and the stumps of limbs, some short, others longer, had rounded edges worn still smoother by the many youngsters climbing among the branches.

I WASN'T SURE it was the same tree I saw at that place two years ago, but it certainly looked similar.

Two years ago I was impressed by the large number of children, from three to ten, perhaps 25 of them, climbing over and through the prone tree. No other equipment or activity in that park appeared so popular. And what an inexpensive plaything that was, too!

I can imagine thousands of back yards in America which might easily be provided with such a tree, dragged there by a tractor. Certainly there are many trees with numerous sturdy limbs available, such as maples and beeches. And why not put one or several such prone trees on school and public playgrounds?

For some years, leaders in playground and recreation in our country have been questioning the value of so many swings and seesaws on school and park playgrounds. These playthings, which are fairly hazardous and call for considerable supervision, hardly stimulate imagination or exercise many muscles.

Open Clash With Mobutu

Congo's Capital Province Head Warns Of Secession

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The president of the Congo's capital province threatened today to secede in an open clash with army leader Col. Joseph Mobutu.

President Cleophas Kamitatu of Leopoldville Province accused Mobutu's soldiers of maintaining a regime of terror, bloodshed and rape in the capital city.

Kamitatu orderd Moebutu and his provisional national government to stop the soldiers' activity or face expulsion within 48 hours by a "civilian mobilization."

The provincial president told a news conference that in the past 10 days the struggle between Mobutu and deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba "has become a war."

Kamitatu has been a consistent supporter of Lumumba.

He in effect ordered Mobutu's 3,000 Congolese army troops in the Leopoldville area to stop carrying arms. The provincial president announced a ban on the carrying of arms by anyone but his 2,800 provincial police and U.N. soldiers.

He also announced a 30-day ban on publication of all newspapers in the province.

He claimed his civil police force is being reinforced by 372 U.N. policemen.

In the manner customary with Congolese leaders, Kamitatu held his news conference in his residence surrounded by a score of rifle-carrying police in gray uniforms who searched the newsmen for weapons.

Kamitatu charged the Leopoldville papers had "concentrated on inciting the population to tribal hatred." The local press has strongly supported Mobutu and his provisional national government of college-trained men.

Kamitatu said unless he received a satisfactory reply from Mobutu within 48 hours, he would convene the provincial cabinet and possibly the provincial assembly and would ask them to vote Leopoldville province out of the Congo.

In the past, Leopoldville and the key Bakongo tribal area between the capital and the sea have demonstrated a considerable feeling for a greater degree of autonomy from the central government. It was not known, however, to what extent the Bakongo tribesmen would back Kamitatu's secession threat. Kamitatu's threat was an obvious move to help Lumumba back to power, and the tribe is generally loyal to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, who has thrown his full support behind Mobutu and his regime of commissioners.

OSU Homecoming Queen Of 1960 To Be Chosen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of five pretty coeds selected Wednesday by students will be Ohio State University's 1960 homecoming queen.

In campus wide balloting students selected Paula Grant of Cleveland, Jayne Haynes of Ashtabula, Elaine Rigdon of West Union, Linda Radabaugh of Toledo, and Marlene Owens of Chicago. One will be queen, the others her court. The selection will be announced at the homecoming dance Friday night.

Miss Owens is the daughter of one-time track star Jesse Owens.

With the balloting, students also expressed their choice of whom they want to lead the country for the next four years. Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon won—4,055 to 2,303—over Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

Discrimination Denied By Home Commandant

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Maj. John W. Parker, commandant of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home here, Wednesday denied charges of racial discrimination in accommodations for Negroes at the home. He said the charges were contained in a letter he received from an official of the Ohio chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Parker said Negroes eat in integrated cafeterias, but are assigned separate living quarters unless they desire otherwise. A poll showed that the Negroes prefer to stay in segregated quarters, he added.

Near Lewistown, Mont., is one of the world's largest sapphire mines.

2 Bombings Rock Cleveland Areas But None Injured

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two bombings rocked near east side neighborhoods Wednesday night and early today, but police said there apparently was no connection between the two incidents. No one was injured.

The first blast occurred at the home of William Pleasants, 50. Pleasants, a porter at Huron Road Hospital, is working through the service workers strike there.

The bomb, placed inside the side door of the 2½-story frame dwelling, blew out the door and all the windows on the west side of the house. The force of the blast also broke some windows at a nearby home.

The later explosion blew out the windows of a garage and sent an automobile rolling out into the street. The bomb was placed in the car owned by the Rev. William E. Stewart, which was parked behind his home. He could offer no reason for the bombing.

Five men riding in a panel truck were held by police in connection with the blast at the Pleasants home. They were nabbed after residerts in the blast area told of seeing a similar vehicle near the scene.

Revenue Service Makes Error In Pay Tax Booklet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials today were debating how to offset the misleading effect of a paragraph in next year's income tax instruction booklets.

It would affect only certain older married couples who itemize deductions for medical expenses.

The Internal Revenue Service, an arm of the Treasury, conceded that the paragraph definitely is misleading. Unfortunately for taxpayers, anyone who might be led astray would pay more taxes than he should.

The law says that if either husband or wife is 65 or older, the medical expenses of both may be deducted in full, within broad dollar limits. The new instruction booklets imply that if either husband or wife is under 65, his or her expenses may only be deducted to the extent that they exceed 3 per cnt of taxable income.

The general rule—for those under 65—is that a person may deduct only that part of his medical expenses which exceds 3 per cent of his income. But this does not apply to persons over 65, or to either one of a married couple if either is over 65.

Buy Tiffin Firm

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Louis J. DiSalle, a brother of Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, and John O. Celusta, son of a former Toledo mayor, have purchased assets of Hanson Clutch & Machinery Co. here. The firm makes excavating machinery and cranes. Clifford O. Hanson, retiring president of the company, announced the sale Wednesday but gave no price.

Open Clash With Mobutu

Congo's Capital Province Head Warns Of Secession

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The president of the Congo's capital province threatened today to secede in an open clash with army leader Col. Joseph Mobutu.

President Cleophas Kamitatu of Leopoldville Province accused Mobutu's soldiers of maintaining a regime of terror, bloodshed and rape in the capital city.

Kamitatu orderd Moebutu and his provisional national government to stop the soldiers' activity or face expulsion within 48 hours by a "civilian mobilization."

The provincial president told a news conference that in the past 10 days the struggle between Mobutu and deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba "has become a war."

Kamitatu has been a consistent supporter of Lumumba.

He in effect ordered Mobutu's 3,000 Congolese army troops in the Leopoldville area to stop carrying arms. The provincial president announced a ban on the carrying of arms by anyone but his 2,800 provincial police and U.N. soldiers.

He also announced a 30-day ban on publication of all newspapers in the province.

He claimed his civil police force is being reinforced by 372 U.N. policemen.

In the manner customary with Congolese leaders, Kamitatu held his news conference in his residence surrounded by a score of rifle-carrying police in gray uniforms who searched the newsmen for weapons.

Kamitatu charged the Leopoldville papers had "concentrated on inciting the population to tribal hatred." The local press has strongly supported Mobutu and his provisional national government of college-trained men.

Kamitatu said unless he received a satisfactory reply from Mobutu within 48 hours, he would convene the provincial cabinet and possibly the provincial assembly and would ask them to vote Leopoldville province out of the Congo.

In the past, Leopoldville and the key Bakongo tribal area between the capital and the sea have demonstrated a considerable feeling for a greater degree of autonomy from the central government. It was not known, however, to what extent the Bakongo tribesmen would back Kamitatu's secession threat. Kamitatu's threat was an obvious move to help Lumumba back to power, and the tribe is generally loyal to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, who has thrown his full support behind Mobutu and his regime of commissioners.

OSU Homecoming Queen Of 1960 To Be Chosen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of five pretty coeds selected Wednesday by students will be Ohio State University's 1960 homecoming queen.

In campus wide balloting students selected Paula Grant of Cleveland, Jayne Haynes of Ashtabula, Elaine Rigdon of West Union, Linda Radabough of Toledo, and Marlene Owens of Chicago. One will be queen, the others her court. The selection will be announced at the homecoming dance Friday night.

Miss Owens is the daughter of one-time track star Jesse Owens.

With the balloting, students also expressed their choice of whom they want to lead the country for the next four years. Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon won—4,695 to 2,305—over Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

Discrimination Denied By Home Commandant

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Maj. John W. Parker, commandant of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home here, Wednesday denied charges of racial discrimination in accommodations for Negroes at the home. He said the charges were contained in a letter he received from an official of the Ohio chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Parker said Negroes eat in integrated cafeterias, but are assigned separate living quarters unless they desire otherwise. A poll showed that the Negroes prefer to stay in segregated quarters, he added.

2 Bombings Rock Cleveland Areas But None Injured

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two bombings rocked near east side neighborhoods Wednesday night and early today, but police said there apparently was no connection between the two incidents. No one was injured.

The first blast occurred at the home of William Pleasants, 50. Pleasants, a porter at Huron Road Hospital, is working through the service workers strike there.

The bomb, placed inside the side door of the 2½-story frame dwelling, blew out the door and all the windows on the west side of the house. The force of the blast also broke some windows at a nearby home.

The later explosion blew out the windows of a garage and sent an automobile rolling out into the street. The bomb was placed in the car owned by the Rev. William E. Stewart, which was parked behind his home. He could offer no reason for the bombing.

Five men riding in a panel truck were held by police in connection with the blast at the Pleasants home. They were nabbed after residents in the blast area told of seeing a similar vehicle near the scene.

Revenue Service Makes Error In Pay Tax Booklet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials today were debating how to offset the misleading effect of a paragraph in next year's income tax instruction booklets.

It would affect only certain older married couples who itemize deductions for medical expenses.

The Internal Revenue Service, an arm of the Treasury, conceded that the paragraph definitely is misleading. Unfortunately for taxpayers, anyone who might be led astray would pay more taxes than he should.

The law says that if either husband or wife is 65 or older, the medical expenses of both may be deducted in full, within broad dollar limits. The new instruction booklets imply that if either husband or wife is under 65, his or her expenses may only be deducted to the extent that they exceed 3 per cat of taxable income.

The general rule—for those under 65—is that a person may deduct only that part of his medical expenses which exceeds 3 per cent of his income. But this does not apply to persons over 65, or to either one of a married couple if either is over 65.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Thanks to all wrote to comment on the letter from the wife who complained bitterly because her husband drowned everything in catsup. I had no idea the subject was of international interest.

That letter provoked an astonishing response — mostly sympathetic to the wife.

Here are some samples:

From Miami: You were much too easy on that vulgar, catsup-craving lout who went so far as to put catsup in his martini!

I'd buy three bottles, all right —and b r e a k them, one at a time, over his fat head. After slaving to season the meat to perfection a man who would douse delicious food in catsup deserves to be crowned. — PERFECTIONIST.

From Sandusky, Ohio: If my old man drowned a $2.40 beef tenderloin in catsup I'd buy dog food for him and pocket the difference.

-:-

From Oklahoma City: That sup addict is a former Navy man — I'd bet my bottom dollar on it. We called it Red Eye and it covered a multitude of kitchen sins!

-:-

From Nassau, Bahamas: The woman who is teed off because her husband is a catsup fiend has high-class worries. My husband k e e p s emptying bottles around here by the sackful — but it's not catsup he's crazy over. It's bourbon. I'd be happy to trade troubles with her.

-:-

From Charleston, W.Va.: I'd give him catsup all right — one tomato at a time!

Nautical Romeo

Dear Ann Landers: I dated a boy in the service when he was home on leave. He asked me to write to him and I agreed.

His very first letter floored me. It was full of poetry and passion. If my dad had gotten hold of that letter I would have just died. The odd thing is, Ann, I gave him no reason to write a letter like that. In fact I never even let him kiss me.

I answered in an impersonal way, hoping he'd take the hint. His second letter was as mushy as the first. Before I had a chance to reply he wrote a third letter —even more intimate.

This boy is nice, and he's a gifted writer but I don't want any more love letters. I've heard boys in the service are sensitive and I'd hate to crush his spirits. Please tell me what to do.—NAN.

Dear Nan: If you can get the point across with a little humor, it will be less painful. Tell him his letters are a fire hazard and you must read them with asbestos gloves. Ask him to continue to write — but less like a sweetheart and more like a friend.

Waste Of Space

Dear Ann: My girl friend and I are having an argument. You know that common expression: "I couldn't care less." Well she says it's "I COULD care less." Please tell us in your column which is right. — TOOTH AND TOENAIL.

-:-

Dear Toenail: The expression as I understand it is, "I couldn't care less," which means I don't care at all. On the other hand, maybe she COULD care less, which means she DOES care, at least a little. To be honest, this is a waste of valuable newspaper space and I couldn't care less.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Talks Canceled

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A driving rain and zero ceiling apparently has robbed Democratic vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson of his last chance to make a second campaign appearance in Ohio. The Texas senator was scheduled to make campaign speeches in Portsmouth and Ironton Wednesday. But after an afternoon address in Huntington, W. Va., Johnson decided not to risk a helicopter hop from the Chesapeake, Ohio, airport to Portsmouth, because of the poor weather. His only swing through the state took him to Columbus and Chillicothe.
